Help Center holds meeting

The annual Board Meeting of the Romulus Help Center will be held at 7:30 p.m., Thurs., May 20 at the Romulus Senior Drop-In Center, 36515 Bibbins, Romulus.

The agency receives its funding from the cities of Romulus, Belleville, Wyandotte, and the townships of Van Buren, Huron and Sumpster. It is also supported by state and federal grants.

The meeting will provide residents with an opportunity to meet agency staff and Board members as well as to learn about agency accomplishments of the past year.

Featured speaker is Steven Campbell, Director of Community Services of Metropolitan T.A. and Gestalt Institute of Livonia. Campbell, who consults with over 65 agencies in the tri-county area, will speak on "Understanding the Person with Alcohol Problems."

The Help Center, incorporated in 1971, is a private social agency providing counseling to adolescents and adults, especially where alcohol and/or other drugs are involved, and providing minor home repair, homemaker, chore as well as information and referral services to persons 60 years of age and older.

MD softball game set

City Hall officials will be swinging for muscular dystrophy on June 7th when the annual MD benefit softball game will be held at Elmer Johnson Park, Ozga Road.

Game time is 7:15 p.m. and all donations will be handed over to the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation to help in its fight against the dreaded disease.

Game time is 7:15 p.m. and all donations will be handed over to the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation to help in its fight against the dreaded disease.

The game will pit elected officials and city hall administrators against city hall employees. And may the best team win.

Moratorium triggers suit

Melvin Wilson is angry so angry at Romulus City Council that he's ready to sue the city.

Wilson's anger stems from a recent moratorium placed on arcades and video games. The owner of Wilson's Dairy, 35705 Goddard, Wilson appeared before council to ask for permission to install two more video games, only to learn that council had placed the moratorium on the licensing of those games.

"I have no recourse then but to seek a higher authority to solve this problem," Wilson said.

Council blasts Detrol

The Detrol Recovery supported publication, "Town Crier" came under attack recently by Michael H. Feiler, attorney for the city of Romulus, who believes that the publication is in violation of postal laws.

Feiler informed Romulus City Council via letter that he believes that the publication "is in direct violation of 18 USC, paragraph 1734."

"It is our belief," Feiler wrote, "that the editorial matter which is found throughout this publication (Town Crier) is intended to mislead the public and that there is an interwoven financial interest between the publication and Detrol."

J.P. O'Toole, who is Public Relations Director for Detrol, disputed Feiler's conclusions and informed council that "there are several suggestions made in the letter that are based on inaccurate premises, and therefore the entire letter has no foundation of fact."

"As an example," O'Toole continued, "some of the advertisements in the Town Crier, the letter says, are Detrol sponsored, but De-tro calls these (statements) public information messages."

Council went on the attack, starting with councilman Jimmie Raspberry, who informed O'Toole what sludge really was.

"Call it what you want," Raspberry said. "I'm not interested in human waste spread over chips. Nine hundred tons a day. Seven days a week. Twenty-four hours a day. I don't care what the lawyers say or anyone - I'm against it."

"Detrol has their rights, but the product they are promoting—I'm against it," Raspberry continued. "I feel it will be detrimental to the people of this city. I don't care if people talk until they are blue in the face, I'll tell them it stinks. It's going to devalue the property. It's going to run our citizens out of here."

"All these 39 years there's been nothing but dumps, rats, odor and disease and that's all this is going to bring us. I feel that the product Detrol is trying to promote is detrimental to the health of this city."

Raspberry concluded by saying he would ask the city to fight Detrol's plans to build in the city right up to "the Supreme Court of the United States."

O'Toole countered that the city should look into the plan Detrol offers. "Based on earlier discussion in this chamber and the need for additional tax base for monies to operate this city, I would think that the city administrators would take a long second look at what Detrol has to offer," O'Toole said.

Mayor Pro Tem Mary Ann Banks informed O'Toole that his presentation was "again nothing more than a pitch for Detrol Products." Mrs. Banks received applause from the audience for her remarks.

O'Toole extended an invitation to council "to attend Detrol's public awareness meeting to learn more about the product."

Here, in its entirety, is the letter which triggered the controversy:

can build the sludge plant, a plant that wouldn't be seven or eight miles from the source of the sludge. Which means you could cut down in transportation costs. And the harbor is adjacent to those empty buildings and land so you can take your product all over the world."

JIMMIE RASPBERRY

vealed later that the petitions submitted were copies of the originals.

"Usually the petitions are prepared by the City Clerk's Office and the names of the circulators, by law, must be attached to the petition on the first page. And normal procedure is that the original petitions remain on file with the clerk's office."

Possible Violation of 18 USC S1734

Dear Inspector Carompton:

Recently my office had some communication with you concerning a newly published "newspaper" being circulated by mail within the City of Romulus. I am enclosing herewith two copies of that paper which are representative samples of the issues which have thus far been published and mailed. Enclosed you will find copies of Volume 1, Number 3 and Volume 1, Number 4.

These publications are mailed via second class mail to each household within the City of Romulus.

The background of this matter involves an effort by a private corporation known as Detrol Recovery Products to locate a facility known as a sludge composting plant within the City of Romulus. The City of Romulus has actively resisted this plant siting on the basis that it would be dangerous, improperly located, and create public health and safety hazards. The matter resulted in a rather extended Wayne County Circuit Court proceeding which has thus far resulted in a ruling that Detrol may be given site approval if it can obtain approval from the local, state and federal governments. This matter is on appeal in the Michigan Court of Appeals and is being hotly contested in both the courts and in the public arena.

The legend of publication contained with the Town Crier shows the general manager to be one Sharon E. Henry and the editorial director to be one J.P. O'Toole. It is our belief that Sharon Henry is one of the persons within the City of Romulus who has sold property (or optioned property) to Detrol. In other words, she has a direct financial interest in the location of Detrol which would apparently mean the purchase by Detrol of her property for a substantial sum.

Mr. J.P. O'Toole, we understand, is the Public Relations Director for Detrol, having been hired as same shortly before the Town Crier appeared. You will note that the statement of publication does recite that this publication is mailed to every residential dwelling in Romulus.

We believe this publication is in direct violation of 18 USC S1734. It is our belief that the editorial matter which is found throughout this publication is intended to mislead the public and that there is an interwoven financial interest between the publication and Detrol. You will note from even a cursory review of these publications that almost every page is filled with news and information of Detrol—I am sure you will also notice that it is all highly laudatory of Detrol and highly critical of the City of Romulus.

Another interesting aspect of this publication are the so-called "public information messages" which take up full page space. It is our belief that this is in itself misleading since obviously these public information messages, so-called, are nothing but advertising yet are not reflected as such.

We have conferred on this matter with the office of the United States Attorney and have been referred to your office for further investigation. It is our belief that this publication warrants investigation under 18 USC S1734 and under general considerations of using the mails for this kind of purpose.

I will be pleased to furnish any additional information, court files, or other records which you may feel helpful. Please be assured of my cooperation and my appreciation in advance for your review of this matter.

MAYOR OAKLEY

Comcast changes its mind

In a surprise turn of events, Comcast Cablevision Corporation officials announced this week that they were withdrawing their offer to build cable TV systems in Romulus, Van Buren, and Sumpster Township. The announcement, in a form of a letter to Romulus Mayor and then relettered May 19, 1982, Comcast officials stated:

"On January 5, 1982 the City of Romulus, selected Comcast Cablevision of Romulus, Inc. as the firm to provide cable TV in the City. The award was subject to passage of a cable communications ordinance naming Comcast as franchisee."

"During subsequent negotiations, the Romulus Cable TV Committee determined not to adopt such an ordinance, but in its place, to adopt a cable communications regulatory ordinance and negotiate a cable TV agreement between the City's Cable TV Committee and Comcast."

"After several negotiation meetings with the Romulus Cable TV Committee, the last of which was held on April 29, 1982 and at which Comcast was physically prepared to tender the City's requisite fee of $50,000, it was determined that the franchise agreement prepared by the Cable TV Committee was not acceptable to Comcast. Comcast Cablevision accordingly withdrew from any further consideration."

"Comcast's Romulus proposal was the key element of the company's plan for the Western V Community Conference. In view of its Romulus decision, Comcast was compelled to additionally withdraw its construction plans for the townships of Sumpster and Van Buren," the letter concluded.

Romulus officials said that they would invite the two unsuccessful bidders back to the council chambers "to see if they are still interested in building the system." Comcast was awarded the bid over Omnicom of Plymouth, which has constructed systems for the city of Plymouth and Canton Township, and over Barden, which recently completed its system for the city of Inkster.

In the meantime, Van Buren Township Supervisor Patricia Cullin said that she would fight Comcast's latest move.

"We're going to go after them," Cullin said. "We're going to use every legal means we can to make them pay for this. I'm really angry about all of this because we have spent the last 18 months being promised that the system was going to be built. They said they were following a schedule, and now we find that they want to withdraw. That's ridiculous."

Mrs. Cullin said the township also had received the letter from the corporation divulging its "intent to withdraw."

Cong. Ford unveils 'Medal of Merit' winners

8 local students honored for community service

Three local and area students were among the 23 individuals who were named this week to receive Congressman William D. Ford's annual "Congressional Medal of Merit for Outstanding Youth."

The local recipients include: Robert Bales and Gina Toth—both of Romulus—and Rebecca Minges of New Boston.

"The Congressional Medal of Merit Awards winners reflect the best traditions of volunteerism, academics and public service," Congressman Ford said of the 1982 honorees on Sunday in a public ceremony staged at the Wayne County Extension and Education Center. "I am pleased to focus attention on their outstanding accomplishments."

The awards were first presented in 1976 as part of the Bicentennial celebration, and received such favorable response, that they have been continued for the last six years.

Congressman Ford (D-Taylor) also praised the 15th District citizens committee, which selected the recipients. Those who served on the committee were: Stella Adams of Belleville, Imogene Pence of Van Buren Township, William Dohan of Dearborn Heights and Elva Ryall of Garden City.

The only group receiving an award—the West Side Singers from Garden City West High School—is being tapped for their many performances before patients of Wayne County General Hospital and at nursing homes, retirement centers, service clubs, and charity benefits.

The Singers were made up of eight young women and eight young men.

Bales is the son of Daniel and Carol Bales. He was selected for his fundraising activities on behalf of a child afflicted with a brain tumor. Robert has maintained a 4.0 grade point average at Romulus Senior High.

Toth is the daughter of William and Helen Lawrence. Gina has devoted many hours of work at the Veterans' Administration Hospital as a volunteer in the intensive care unit.

Minges is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Minges. Rebecca also was cited for her volunteer services at the local municipal offices. She has a straight "A" scholastic grade average at Huron High School. Rebecca also is active on the student Council and was selected as Miss Teen-Age Michigan of 1981.

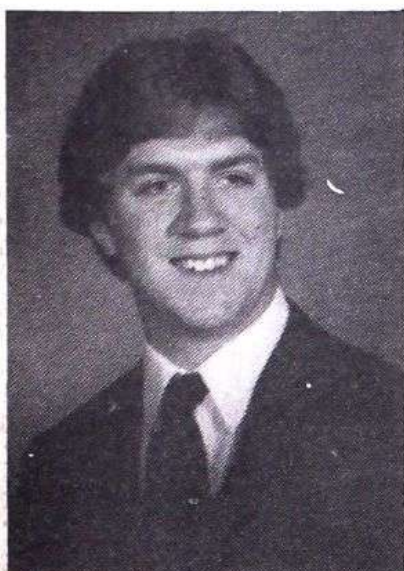

Belleville recipients Lori Vicchy; Kevin Carnahan of Van Buren Township and Carla Loshinske.

Lori is the daughter of Samuel and Susan Vicchy. She was cited for her leadership and hard work in the clean-up of Belleville Lake and Victory Park. Lori, 18, is active in athletics and in volunteer work, especially in the work with the elderly.

Kevin, 18, is the son of Kenneth and Shirley Carnahan. He earned recognition for working on the development of local zoning policy, and for his contribution to the Mid-Census Committee and the Family Day Community Fundraiser.

Carla, also 18, is the daughter of Carl and Dorothy Loshinske. She has been active in restoring and maintaining the baccalaureate program at Belleville High School, and for the numerous community activities.

Schools plan strategy for June 14 election

It's an all-out effort to drum up support for the June 14 school millage, the Romulus Community School District Board of Education has met with groups of concerned parents and businessmen.

At its May 10 meeting, the school board explored with two separate citizens' groups ways and means of informing the community of the dire and crucial need for the school millage.

In April, voters in the school district rejected an 8.5 mill renewal. That levy will reappear on the ballot at the annual school election, scheduled for Monday, June 14.

Representatives of "Our Community Counts Committee" and the newly reactivated Regional P. T. A., discussed with board members strategies in explaining the school district's need to the taxpayers and voters of the community.

Roger Cadaret, Chairman of Our Community Counts Committee, indicated that his organization was willing to put time, money and effort into explaining the issues.

Howard Kesner, the newly elected President of the Regional P. T. A. Organization, also pledged support.

The two men indicated there is a meeting scheduled at Merriman School on May 17, which will also include the Romulus Athletic Booster Organization. The purpose of this meeting will be for the various groups interested in working for the millage to coordinate their effort.

Cadaret indicated: "The Booster Club is having an auction for a fund-raising event on Saturday, June 12." "Our Community Counts Committee" and the P. T. A. Organization hope that we can stage a rally to support the millage on the same day and that both activities will be strengthened by this joint effort."

Superintendent William Bedell spoke to the critical nature of the election.

"It seems lately that we are constantly indicating to people that we are on the brink of crisis", Bedell said. "But it's true. We must have this 8.5 mills just to maintain our current program. If the money's not approved in June, we have indication from the Wayne County Election Scheduling Committee that we will not be permitted to vote with the primary in August, so we could well be into the next school year without the millage being renewed. "This amount of money can only be made up by a massive reduction in school program or year. If its not approved in June, we're really in trouble."

Cadaret, Kesner and Norm McFall, President of the Romulus Booster Club, hope to work with Board Members and others to get the message to the community. They pledge to provide as much information as they can to the newspaper and to other media to encourage a positive vote on June 14.

Bedell indicated that the millage represented $2.6 million of the district's $16 million budget.

The election is Monday, June 14 and the deadline for final registration was May 17.

Washtenaw's playing games

Area residents will have an opportunity to participate in "New Games," a non-competitive format for all ages, at the Peaceable Community Festival to be held on the Washtenaw Community College Campus May 23 from 1-5 p.m. The games are co-sponsored by The Council for Children at Risk and the Community Services department of WCC.

The point of the festival, which is free of charge, is to provide information on "New Games" in a fun way and to engage county residents in new forms of non-competitive play," explains Jacqueline Allen of the College's Community Services.

Marcia MacMullen of the Council for Children at Risk explains that there are two types of "New Games," both of which emphasize cooperation rather than competition among players. Many of these are traditional sports including soccer and volleyball but with rules changed to "minimize competition and maximize fun," she says. The object of volleyball, for instance, is to keep the ball in the air, not to score points. MacMullen says that refreshments and music performed by the WCC Jazz Orchestra are also a part of the afternoon festivities, open to the public.

Consolidation

Van Buren, Belleville may be a vote away from uniting

Failing to gather enough votes to force the issue on a referendum, Van Buren residents kept the issue of consolidation alive with neighboring Belleville.

The township had until 5 p.m. Monday, May 17 to acquire approximately 600 signatures, but, according to Van Buren Township supervisor Patricia Cullin, the referendum bid fell short by about 160.

The Boundary Commission will now call for an election of Charter Commissioners, whose goal will be to draw up a charter for the proposed consolidation between Van Buren Township and Belleville.

"We were about 160 votes short," said Mrs. Cullin, "and that's not enough to get this thing on the ballot." Asked why the group didn't or couldn't get the necessary signatures, Mrs. Cullin replied: "I really don't know. Maybe the residents want to consolidate with Belleville, but I personally don't think so."

According to the summary of proceedings, issued by the state's Department of Commerce:

- The Commission finds in pursuance of Section 12a (3) of Public Act 191 of 1968, that if between 8:00 a.m. April 2, 1982 and 5:00 p.m. May 17, 1982, the signatures of 5 percent or more of the registered electors residing in the area approved for Consolidation are obtained on a valid election request petition, and that petition has been filed in the Boundary Commission office no later than 5:00 p.m. May 17, 1982 the Commission will call an election on the question of consolidation to be held at a later date.

- The Commission finds that if a petition, as described above, is not filed, this Commission Order shall be final May 17, 1982.

- The Commission finds that, if valid petitions are filed as of above then its Order for the election on the question of Consolidation shall include a new effective date for their Findings of Fact and Order, such date shall be at least 10 days later than such election date.

- The Commission finds in pursuance of Section 12a (4) of Public Act 191 of 1968, that should a petition be filed as of above, and the question of Consolidation is voted on separately by the municipalities affected in the area proposed to be consolidated and, if the majority of either or both of the municipalities votes "No" on the question to Consolidate, then the Commission's approval Order is null and void.

- The Commission finds that should an election be held as of above and the majority of the voters of the municipalities affected in the area proposed to be consolidated, separately vote "Yes" approving such Consolidation, the Commission shall proceed to Order the election of nine charter commissioners.

The voters will have two chances to approve a proposed charter and if the charter is rejected both times, the governments of Belleville & Van Buren would remain "as is".

Mrs. Cullin said she had mixed feelings about proposed consolidation because "I personally don't feel that we can any way, I can't afford to pay more taxes and that is what this would eventually lead to."

Cullin said she felt an alternative would be for the township board to pass a resolution to become a charter township, then "90 percent of our boundaries would be protected without an increase in millage." Van Buren presently encompasses 36 square miles of land and has about 20,000 residents, while Belleville is about one-square mile with 3,000 residents.

"It would be the little entity taking over the larger one," Mrs. Cullin said.

Huron builds rec. complex

6-acre facility includes picnic, baseball areas

Huron residents will soon have another beautiful softball diamond, as well as new tennis courts, outdoor basketball courts and a picnic shelter area.

The new $20,000 recreation complex is located on Huron River Drive near West Road and was announced by John Crihan, grant co-ordinator for the township.

Plans for the recreation area, which will be paid for out of grant funds, were modified slightly by the Township Board last week when Crihan said another acre had been purchased adjacent to the original 5-acre site.

Included in the plans, which are being updated because of the newly-acquired acre, is a fully equipped, fenced-in softball diamond, two multi-purpose courts which can be used for tennis or outdoor basketball and a picnic shelter. The multi-purpose courts can also be flooded for use as ice rinks in the winter.

Also on the blue prints is a large parking lot which will accommodate more than 80 cars in the initial stage. The new park site is located on the west side of Huron River Drive between West and King roads.

In related news, Grant Coordinator Crihan and his staff were praised last week by the county staff of the Community Development Block Grant Fund (CDBG).

The Wayne County Grant people were out for their annual audit and review of Huron Township's books and were greatly impressed. The officials went over the books last Wednesday and were quoted as saying the books in the Huron Township Grant Department are "in excellent shape."

"These books in the grant department are the best we've seen in a long time," one Wayne County grant official was quoted as saying.

The Township Board added its praise for Crihan and his work done in acquiring and use of grant money.

Neighborhood Watch

Residents declare war against crime

Huron Township observed National Police Week with special activities last week and the forming of its first Neighborhood Watch program involving local residents.

Police Joe Carney told the Township Board that the annual spotlight on law enforcement provided the township with a golden opportunity to form its first project directly involving citizens. And it was a big success.

Some 26 of the 32 homes in a 1-mile section on Prescott Road between Inkster Road and Middlebelt were represented at the get-together to get citizens more involved in preventing crime and helping their neighbors.

"It was a tremendous success," Carney told the Township Board and a small number in the audience at last week's regular meeting. "People showed great enthusiasm for the program and said they were willing to help in any way they could to prevent crime. We were greatly encouraged and look forward to starting approximately 50 such groups to cover the entire township," he said.

Supervisor Richard Sullivan seized the opportunity to urge publicity for the grass-roots crime prevention program. "I certainly hope the Romulus Roman and other local newspapers will publicize this undertaking. 'Word of mouth is the best advertising there is, and I certainly hope everyone spreads the word about the Neighborhood Watch program' he said.

"I don't want the enthusiasm to die down," Sullivan continued. "This is a fine program and we want to give it all the support we can."

Chief Carney added: "The theme of the program is to get everyone to know one another and to help each other." After the meeting, Carney told the Roman that the Township Board meeting room was filled with interested citizens at the Neighborhood Watch Program session.

"It was almost five minutes to 8 O'clock and no one had showed up," he said, "and it looked like our first meeting might not be a success. But between 7:55 and 8:04 p.m., a large number of people arrived and we put down extra chairs," Carney said.

Patrolman Richard Blood, Crime Prevention Officer for Huron Township, heads up the program and showed a slide presentation and gave other valuable tips to residents on how to drastically cut the number of break-ins and thefts.

"Patrolman Blood deserves a lot of credit for the hard work he has put in on this program," Chief Carney said. Carney praised National Police Week, which was celebrated May 9-15. He especially noted May 15 — last Saturday — which will be heralded each year as Police Memorial Day in honor of officers who have died in the line of duty in enforcing the law.

The proclamation unanimously passed by the Township Board last Wednesday reads as follows:

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States of America has designated the week of May 15th to be dedicated as "National Police Week" and May 15th of each year to be "Police Memorial Day," and

WHEREAS, The law enforcement officers are our guardian of life and property, defenders of the individual right to be free men, warriors in the war against crime and dedicated to the preservation of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and

WHEREAS, The Township of Huron desires to honor the valor, service and dedication of its own police officers;

WE THEREFORE PROCLAIM THE WEEK OF 9-15 TO BE POLICE WEEK and call upon all our citizens in this community to especially honor and show our sincere appreciation for the police officers of this township by deed, remark and attitude. I call upon all our citizens to make every effort to express their thanks to our men who make it possible for us to leave our homes and family in safety each day and to return to our homes knowing they are protected by men willing to sacrifice their lives, if necessary, to guard our loved ones, property and government against all who would violate the law.

Crime Prevention begins at home

Explaining the many facets of safeguarding one's home from break-ins, Huron Township Police Chief Joe Carney has the attention of residents Paul and Betty Behnke, two of approximately 50 persons that turned out to get information on the township's "Neighborhood Watch" program. Chief Carney explained that with breaking and entering residential dwellings on the rise, more residents are concerned and willing to learn how to fight back against criminals.

Ex-Romulus athletic director sues school board

Hardy says board misled him about his job

William C. Hardy, the former athletic director at Romulus High, is suing the Romulus Board of Education for his job and $10,000 in damages. Hardy was a victim of school cut-backs a year ago.

Hired by the board in April of 1978, and released in July of 1981, Hardy has filed, through his attorney, Edwin G. Fabre, a suit on Circuit Court and names as defendants the Romulus Community Schools Board of Education, William Bedell, Superintendent of Schools, and Michael Woods, President of the Romulus Community Schools Board of Education.

In the suit, Hardy says that the defendants "misrepresented to plaintiff that he would be retained if the bond issue passed. As a result of the defendant's fraudulent misrepresentation, plaintiff had suffered loss of income, loss of benefits, mental and emotional stress as well as loss of esteem, prestige and self worth."

Romulus received voter approval last November to sell $3 millions in bonds to pay for a deficit that had piled up because of declining student enrollment and a decrease in state aid. The voters approved a tax of 2 mills the first year, and decreasing amounts in succeeding years to pay off the bonds.

In his complaint, Hardy states that "on or about September 9, 1981, the Booster Club of the Romulus Community Schools approached him to discuss retaining him as a result of the meeting the Booster Club and the defendant, plaintiff was reemployed by the defendant."

The basis of his (Hardy's) reemployment was that the Booster Club was to pay 50 percent of the plaintiff's salary and the defendant was to pay the other 50 percent of the salary. On or about Sept. 10, 1981, the plaintiff was recalled by the defendant.

The complaint continues to state that Hardy was also advised that if the pending bond issue was passed by the voters of the school district he would be recalled permanently to his position as athletic director, however, although the bond issue passed, Hardy was not rehired.

The complaint continues "that the actions of the Romulus Community Schools Board of Education was designed and intended to mislead plaintiff (Hardy) and said misrepresentations were done with malice and ill-will to the detriment of the plaintiff."

Reaganomics hurts

Romulus Schools will receive less federal funds next school year due to cutbacks proposed in the new Reagan administration budget for fiscal year 1982-83, school officials said.

According to Dr. Terrel M. LeCesne, Federal Programs Director, the school district was told to budget for 15 percent less next year. That adds up to approximately $41,000 less to spend on special programs for Romulus youngsters.

In addition to less money, Dr. LeCesne pointed out that the new Education Consolidation and Improvement Act passed by Congress last year also combines previous separately funded programs into a single block grant which will further reduce the district's fund allocation.

Some programs immediately affected are the Title I Pre-School Program at Cory, library improvements at all schools and Learning Centers at the elementary and secondary schools.

All compensatory programs previously funded by Title I grants will be replaced by the new Chapter I of the new education act. Chapter 11 of the Act will provide for the block grant funding of the other programs, but with considerably less money, according to Dr. LeCesne. He further stated that the net result is that the district will have to cut back in programming and reduce staff.

In order to assist administration and the Board in establishing priorities and making decisions on program changes, the district has surveyed teachers, administrators, paraprofessionals, parents, students and citizens to give them input to the decision making process.

Survey returns are being tabulated and results will be available to the Board by early next month. The Board will also have a public hearing before a final budget is adopted.

Dr. LeCesne further stated that a public meeting of the District Parent Advisory Council will be held at the Board Office on Tuesday, June 8, 1982, at 7:30 p.m. to consider final recommendations from his office prior to presentation to the Board.

Dr. LeCesne also urged parents to get into the legislative process by writing Congressman William Ford and Senators Reigle and Levin to voice their concerns about the proposed reductions.

While taxpayers burn

County fiddles with assessments

Divided by interests favoring a rollback or holding the line on residential taxes and those pressing for operating revenue, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners for the second time has not approved new assessments recommended by the County Bureau of Taxation.

Last week the Board again did not concur with recommended county-wide assessments of $18.8 billion, up $679 million over last year.

A proposal by Commissioner William J. Runco to rollback taxes 6.59 percent, the assessed increase being recommended, was first defeated on May 6 when the Board first considered but also did not adopt the Tax Bureau report.

Runco's is a leading voice among commissioners pointing to protests from "overwhelming numbers" of taxpayers appearing before local board of tax review, in a step prior to testimony of local community officials before the County Tax Equalization Hearing Board.

However, Paul G. Citkowski, Chairman of the County Tax Hearing Board, said very few local officials objected in hearings before the County. "They know that a rollback, a return to 1981 levels, would mean disaster for their budgets and public services, just as we know it for the County," Citkowski said after the hearings.

This year, the County is facing a potential $16.7 million deficit.

Until the Tax Bureau Equalization report is approved by the Board of Commissioners, local communities cannot collect taxes for local needs except for intervention by the State Tax Commission, said County Tax Director George McEachran. He said that if the Board does not adopt the report by May 24, the state will impose a state-wide assessment raising taxes above both the local and county assessment levels.

McEachran said Runco's proposal would reduce the County's revenue by about $5 million, although costing the average residential taxpayer in the county less than 35 cents per month. In Detroit, he said, it would be 19 cents per month. 57 cents in Dearborn and 51 cents in Dearborn Heights.

New chamber officers

If there's anything this area, state and nation needs for the coming year is a "turnaround" economy, from depression to prosperity. And the new Bellefonte-Van Buren Chamber of Commerce officers hope to see that happen during their tenure in office. The newly-elected slate includes: Hazel Bigham, treasurer; Donna Hall, who retained the title of president for the second year; Bert Osterberg, secretary and Patricia Birbeck, vice president. Not available at the time of the photo is chamber officer Jerry Krause, second vice president.

TV star to present local awards

The finale to the Anthony F. Greene International Student Exchange Fund's 1982's activities will take place at 7 p.m. on Sat., May 22, at the Inkster Recreation Complex, 2025 Middlebelt Road, Inkster, where awards and TV personalities head the program.

At that time, the 1982 Ambassador Award Recipient, Audrey Denise Pool, will be honored. Ms. Pool, a student at Inkster High School, is 16 years old, 10th grade student, who has aspirations of attending Purdue University and pursuing a degree in Electrical Engineering.

Her hobbies are modern dance, flute, baton twirling and reading.

A member of Pentecostal Temple Church in Inkster, her affiliations are Zinos Club, sponsored by the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Mrs. Emma Senk is the supervisor; Sorrelles Club, sponsored by Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Mrs. Bobbie Jordan is the supervisor; and Modern Dance Club, called "Dance Communications," Ms. Delores Aaron of Inkster is the supervisor.

Audrey's favorite subjects are Math, Science and English. She resides in Inkster, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fowler. She describes her feelings as thrilled, honored, happy and surprised. She says she is prepared for the moment when she is presented the coveted Ambassador Award by the special guest.

The Benefit Celebrity Reception will have as special guest, Terry Lester, TV star of the popular soap opera, "The Young and the Restless." Mr. Lester will present the award to Ms. Pool and actually give the persons attending a chance to find out the real "scoop" about the other soap opera stars.

That part of the reception's program will be called, "The Celebrity Soap Box." Lester portrays the part of the "casanova," Jack Abbott, on the popular daytime show, seen at 12:30 p.m. on Channel 2 in this area.

Lester will be appearing earlier in the day at the Lakeside Mall in Sterling Heights. His fee from that appearance will be donated to the International Student Exchange Fund Ambassador Award. Terry Lester was born on April 13 in Indianapolis. He earned a B.S. degree in political science at DePauw University in Greencastle, Ind.

Residents of this area can thank Edward Greene, a resident of Inkster, who is the Chairman of the Anthony F. Greene International Student Exchange Fund, for the appearance of a TV star of Mr. Lester's caliber. He and Edward met in California years ago, and the friendship has continued. Mr.

Greene is hopeful the coverage of the event will interest students who may be interested in applying next year for the Ambassador Award.

Van Buren holds Art Council meeting

Van Buren Township Arts Council, sponsored through the Parks and Recreation Department, will meet 7:30 p.m., Thursday, May 20 at Van Buren Township Hall.

"Anyone interested in the arts, both visual and performing, should plan on attending this very informative meeting," said Mark Rairick, Van Buren Director of Parks & Recreation Department.

Rairick has reason to be excited after experiencing a very successful community Artist Residency Training (CART) program in which Robert Post, a mime, was brought into Van Buren Township for a full week.

Post visited and performed in several schools, club organization meetings, and other places where audiences might already be gathered.

"The C.A.R.T. program was the arts council's first project," explained Rairick, "and now with the Art Council's first project behind them, they will begin to plan for a large arts and crafts, and talent show planned for August 21 and 22 at Van Buren Park and will be titled "Art in Van Buren Park."

"Art in Van Buren Park" will include local art talent along with other artists invited from around the Michigan area.

Everyone is invited to the meeting.

If you have any questions, please contact the Parks & Recreation Department at 699-2001.

Belleville's Pat Dodge helps in war against cancer

A Belleville resident is among the thousands of volunteers who have rolled up their sleeves and joined the fight against the dreaded disease, cancer.

Patricia A. Dodge, a decorator sales consultant, has joined the group of speakers to assist the Foundation with its efforts to increase cancer awareness in the community.

The group is available to give talks on the Foundation, community services, cancer sites, treatment, myths, and warning signals and on the National Cancer Institute and the Metropolitan Detroit Comprehensive Cancer Center.

Any group interested in scheduling an MCF speaker should contact the Center's coordinator Marilyn Nielsen at 336-4110.

4-H members eligible for MSU scholarships

Present or former Wayne County 4-H members who are attending Michigan State University, are enrolled in the College of Human Ecology and have attained at least junior standing may be eligible for a $500 scholarship.

The $500 tuition scholarship is sponsored by the Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers and is awarded annually to an MSU human ecology student interested in pursuing a career with the Cooperative Extension Service.

"Considering the cutbacks that have been made in student aid programs, this scholarship may be very helpful to a former or present Wayne County 4-H'er attending MSU," says Phyllis Miller, Wayne County 4-H Youth Agent.

Interested Wayne County 4-H'ers should obtain scholarship application forms from the MSU College of Human Ecology, 103 Human Ecology Building, on the MSU campus.

Completed application forms must be returned by June 1 to Myra Spike, 8400 N. Seymour Road, Owosso, MI 48867. Recipients will be notified by mid-July.

'Mailbox improvement week'

Belleville postmaster urges residents to repair mailboxes

Now that the snowplows have been put away, the Belleville Postal Service is urging postal patrons — and especially those on rural routes, city curblines and highways — to turn their attention to repairing and improving their mailboxes during Mailbox Improvement Week, May 17-21.

"This winter was especially rough on mailboxes," said Belleville Postmaster Patrick J. Tobin. "Now the effects of weather, vandalism, abuse and neglect are evident in leaning support posts, rust and corrosion, broken hinges on doors and missing numbers and names."

Noting that rural carriers alone serve more than 15 million boxes daily, the Belleville Postmaster said a damaged or improperly placed box will make it more difficult for rural letter carriers to leave those special letters and packages.

"Of course some boxes may only need painting," the postmaster said, "but others may need to be replaced."

The postmaster said the Postal Service has restrictions on the type of mailbox customers may choose.

Rural customers must erect mailboxes which have been approved for use on rural routes. Should customers prefer a custom-made mailbox, it must meet certain standards for size and strength and be approved by the postmaster before being placed in use.

Postmaster Tobin said a variety of approved commercial mailbox designs are available for use with decorative posts, and those who would prefer a custom-made mailbox, or who need information on mailbox specifications and requirements in general may check with the Belleville post office.

our opinions

It's worth repeating - 'No more taxes'

If all the President's good men would only listen and not twist arms, we may bring this country back from its worst depression in history.

Reaganomics doesn't work. And the huge lines waiting for unemployment benefits are living proof.

The Reagan budget calls for heavy defense spending and reduced taxes. This results in a huge deficit approaching 5 percent of the annual gross national product. The government is forced to borrow heavily to cover the deficit.

This heavy borrowing drives up interest rates, already high. High ticket sales, already currently depressed will probably drop like a stone. Commerce in real estate, construction, autos, auto suppliers, steel, refrigerators and civilian aircraft, already in a tailspin, will dive if not crash. Heavy business borrowers like airlines, railroads, will suffer even more because of the necessity of charging higher rates to cover increased interest costs.

Banks and savings and loan institutions, currently bleeding scores of billions in deposits to more competitive money funds, and already caught in a disastrous interest squeeze, and sitting on scores of billions of bad loans to developing nations, could face collapse with continued high interest rates, let alone further increased rates. The merging of these institutions is already happening. They may start folding soon, and in large numbers.

The reduction of these industries and businesses will force more unemployment, already high. This will create demand for increased government spending for welfare and unemployment compensation.

The President may be tempted to cover part of the deficit by printing money, or doing the equivalent, taking credits at the Federal Reserve. Printing money, or the equivalent, based solely on the credit of the Federal Government, will directly increase the money supply, and consequently, according to Reagan's economic guru, Milton Friedman, directly accelerate inflation.

If Reagan does this in a short period of time, as he will be tempted to do, he will invite hyperinflation. It is possible that the country might simultaneously experience economic depression, high unemployment, high interest rates, and a currently debased by hyperinflation. The depression is only beginning. Higher unemployment is a virtual certainty. Higher interest rates within the next year can be expected. Destruction of credit by hyperinflation is a dangerous possibility.

The current budget battle between Reagan and the Congress will likely be resolved by a slight decrease in government domestic spending, a slight decrease in defense spending, a slight increase in taxes, and a slight decrease in the Federal budget deficit. In other words, window dressing. Hard choices on what is necessary and what isn't necessary for adequate defense will be avoided by both Reagan and Congress. Reagan might even continue to argue that the Russians will invade Manhattan if we don't refloat several old battleships at a billion dollars apiece.

Reagan has blundered into a depression that will probably elect Ted Kennedy in 1984. Reagan will be tempted to save his political chestnuts by an adventurous war in some remote backwater like El Salvador. His military and diplomatic genius, as recently shown in the Falklands operetta, is comparable to his economic talent.

Mr. President, it's time to listen to the other people. Your side has proven to be wrong. Ask any auto, steel, real estate man or woman in Michigan.

the hillenbrand report

Washington, mind your own business

(Bernard F. Hillenbrand has observed, criticized, supported and changed local government for a score of years. Since 1957, he has served as executive director of the National Association of Counties and its Research Foundation. He is founder and editor of County News, a weekly Washington, D.C. newspaper reporting the effects of legislation, regulation and judicial decisions on local government. Hillenbrand holds an M.A. in public administration from the Maxwell School of Public Administration, Syracuse University. He is a well-known author.)

By BERNARD F. HILLENBRAND

Despite talk of federal deregulation and states' rights, some congressmen are supporting a bill that would cost taxpayers millions — for paperwork.

The Public Employees' Retirement Income Security Act (PERISA) would add a new layer of bureaucracy to administration of public employees' pensions. Every government agency would be forced to overhaul its retirement plan.

As one local official predicts, the new standards could lead to Pittsburgh into bankruptcy. Enid, Okla., would have to spend 65 percent of its taxes for pensions, compared with 13 percent now. And in Reading, Pa., pensions might absorb 40 percent of tax revenue, compared with the current 15 percent.

Reading officials doubt citizens would approve the necessary tax increases.

While thousands of public employees are being laid off, some congressmen dream up more expensive mandates requiring more bureaucrats — and higher taxes.

Instead of tax dollars, they send home mandates!

"On the one hand we are asked to assume full responsibility for major social needs such as welfare, food stamps, education, transportation, and social services," Councilwoman Barbara O. Kreamer of Harford County, Md., recently told a congressional committee. "Then we are informed we are unequipped to handle a basic employer function — pensions."

Federal regulation was first discussed in the 1970s, when some cities faced fiscal crises and sizeable pension debts. After Congress set standards for private pensions in 1974 under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA), a similar public sector bill was proposed.

Private sector pension plans need federal regulation because companies do go out of business, leaving employees without benefits they earned, and deserve. Businesses also cross state lines. Public pension plans do not need federal regulation because governments do not disappear. No public employee has ever lost benefits. Each state is responsible for its own plan and those of its political subdivisions.

In fact, federal intervention in other municipal employment practices has been ruled unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The main forces behind PERISA are public employees' unions. But it's hard to make the case that their members are treated unfairly. Most plans offer higher benefits than private employers'. Firefighters and police have retirement programs that are the envy of all. Many public employees, such as Chicago's teachers, make no contribution to very generous pensions.

Nine percent of all public employees belong to large statewide retirement systems.

The truth is, state and local governments manage better than Uncle Sam does. He pays pension benefits from annual income, as they come due. States and localities have accrued $200 billion in savings for retirement programs. Those that manage pension funds well are rewarded with higher bond ratings.

United States is loser in Falkland War

No one wanted the islands. Argentina started this war simply to divert its own population from serious internal political and economic problems. Britain militarily opposes the invasion because she resists armed invasion by anybody on any of her territory.

Now the issue for the Argentine Government is the future political influence of the army; Now the issue for the British Government is the repelling of invasion of British territory without any useful military help from the United States.

It looks like the British are going to have to counterinvade the Falklands because the Argentine Government cannot withstand the loss of face to voluntarily remove its troops. The real problem for the Argentine Government is to quickly find a civilian to accept temporary leadership so that a civilian will agree to UN trusteeship and save the army from the political disaster of admitting that they were wrong to invade the Falklands in the first place.

Regardless of the outcome of the war or its diplomatic resolution, it is clear that the biggest loser is the United States. The Falkland incident has proved that the American Government, including its President, is totally incapable of forcing any restraint on any of the numerous military dictatorships that it sponsors in South America, Africa, and Asia.

Within hours of the Argentine invasion of the Falklands, the American Ambassador to the United Nations attended a State dinner hosted by the Argentine Government.

In effect, this stated quite clearly to the Argentines that America would not oppose the Falkland invasion.

Within 24 hours of this diplomatic fiasco, the U.S. changed its position and presented Haig as an "honest broker" and pretended to be neutral. Having already in effect said to the Argentines that the U.S. would not do anything drastic over the invasion, the U.S. presented no incentive to the Argentines to seriously negotiate.

Consequently, the Haig mission was doomed from the start.

After a few weeks of the futile Haig mission, the U.S. changed its position again and suddenly announced to the world that it discovered that Argentina was the aggressor, and, as a consequence, the U.S. was supporting Britain in the war. This announcement was accompanied by the protest that there would be no U.S. military support even though prior to that time Americans were controlling the air traffic in Ascension, from which British military aircraft left on bombing runs on the Falklands.

Thus, in one month, the American Government has presented three different postures in this war, ranging from silent support of the Argentines, to neutrality, to announced support of the British.

In one month, the American Government has managed to destroy (1) the political effectiveness of the Organization of American States, (2) the NATO Treaty, and (3) any credibility to American support of right wing dictatorships on the grounds that they are bulwarks against Communism.

The political effectiveness of the OAS has been shown to be a nullity, since Latin America has unanimously supported Argentina since declared American support of Britain. But no military support has been provided to the Argentines. This the mutual defense provisions of the OAS have proved to be worthless.

NATO is destroyed because the territory of a NATO ally was militarily invaded without any real military response by NATO. Despite immediate declared support of Britain, the U.S. continued the posture of "honest broker" for a month. Even now the U.S. refuses to announce military support of its invaded NATO ally, and refuses to give any really useful military help. Meanwhile, the rest of Europe sits on its hands militarily, and some countries like France are starting to openly snipe at Great Britain.

Since the beginning of the Argentine invasion of the Falklands, the Argentine military junta has openly declared that it will do business in a big way with the Soviet Union.

The Soviets have responded positively by affirming their agreement to purchase 85 percent of Argentina's wheat export. Both countries have declared their willingness to transport huge quantities of wheat by ship despite the British declared war zone. In the face of all this, it became impossible for the American Government to continue to say that they were supporting the Argentine junta because of its stance against Communism in general, and Russian influence in particular.

Since the inception of the Reagan administration, the American Government has gone out of its way to side up to the Argentine junta and declare that the Carter policy of advocating human rights by stopping the flow of free military goodies to the Argentines would be reversed. The twists and turns of the Reagan government in the past month in the Falklands war makes very clear that American support of the junta prior to the war had nothing to do with anticommunism and anti-Soviet policy.

Indeed, the American Government has literally pushed Argentina into the warm embrace of the Soviet bear.

One could get mildly nauseated when one reads the paper and learns that major corporations get away from paying their fair share while the "average American" must depart with more than 30 to 40 percent of his paycheck.

But, again, one must feel fortunate that he is still employed.

However, there is a natural patriotism in most of us. We do it because the government tells us to do it. That WAS patriotism, wasn't it?

But if one would pause and read the piles of press releases crossing this desk nowadays, you'd soon realize that something is brewing. The property owners, the virtuosos paying the bills, are disenchanted; small business is going out of business and the largest corporations are begging their employees for concessions — something unheard of in the history of this country.

One reader even urged me to ask our elected officials in Washington and Lansing to make some concessions to the public. "Why don't they cut their paychecks by 10 percent, just like the auto workers did?" this smartalecky reader wrote.

Most of us are ready to abandon ship, realizing that there are no lifeboats to carry us through and over the icy fiscal waters.

Then there was this accountant who mailed me a copy of a "United States Internal Revenue income tax form", circa 1865 — that's no typo, sirs, 1865. And he pointed out that the form was a one page deal and the IRS collected taxes on — now get this — billiard tables, kept for private use; carriages, valuation over $50 and not over $100; pianofortes, gold watches, silver plate and gold plate."

Parents like
W-W schools

EDITOR — As parents of four boys who attend four different schools in the Wayne-Westland School District, we must say that there really hasn't been too much to complain about.

We have been very impressed over the years with the progress of our children. They go to school every day with an eagerness we never knew in our days. They're learning and yet loving it at the same time.

We would like to offer a special thanks to the Wayne-Westland School District, the school authorities, and your teacher for filling in the voids that we as parents could not fill. You have unselfishly given of yourself to the needs of our children. We have made a great team.

Another award should be given to those parents (you know who you are) who have offered themselves as volunteers. The schools will always be in need of your time and knowledge. Our awards will be found in heaven, but in the meantime, let's enjoy a rewarding life with our little blessings from above.

Dems' picks

EDITOR — The Metro Wayne Democratic Club is encouraging all concerned citizens to vote in the annual school elections which will be held this year on June 14. Our children are the keys to the future of this great nation and education provides tomorrow's leaders, scientists, doctors and engineers.

Subsequently, when our club held its recent screening meeting for prospective candidates to the Wayne-Westland Community School District, we have come out with endorsements for Mr. Thomas Barrett, the incumbent, and Mr. Dewey Combs.

We feel these two candidates are exceptional and have the best interests of our schools and children at heart.

says 'thank you'

EDITOR — We would like to use this means as an expression of publicly thanking all of the contributors of our community, for the generous donations of door prizes that helped to make our Savage School Carnival a huge success.

It is with much gratitude that we thank the following groups and businesses:

Nellis Pharmacy and Foodland, Jerry's Foxey Lady, Belleville Drug Center, Captain Nemo's, Belle's Chicken, Bentley Galleries, Johns Four Wheel Drive, Bella-Hi Pizzeria, Lucille Dickerson (Watkins Products), Craftmaster's, Garden Fantasy, Coy Kendall Flowers, Donna Renton (Parent), Meredith Electronics, Susie Druker (Parent) Guys and Gals, Virginia Young Avon representative, Lodge Lanes, Hair Pin, Mr. and Mrs. Van Allen (Parents), Belvil Florists, S&R Auto Parts, Pic and Pay Mini Mart, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Owsley (Parents), Jake's Shoe Repair, and T. Parties Inc. (Judy Wagle, parent).

Without the support of our community and its business professionals, functions such as our would not or could not take place.

In these times when things are already tight, it is a pleasure to know that we can count on our local merchants, who have been called upon again and again and still always manage to find the means to help.

Also, a very special thank you to all of our Savage School parents, who gave so willingly of their time to help. You are the real force behind our success.

Teacher sets conspiracy straight

EDITOR — Having waded through the twisted syntax and puzzling grammar of Mrs. Runion's recent letters to The Associated Newspapers regarding the Wayne-Westland Community School situation, I think I have finally figured out her message. As a teacher I feel compelled to speak out in her behalf. Truly I have seen the light.

Some misguided souls might argue that the school district's fiscal problems are at least in part due to the fact that state aid to local districts has been slashed drastically over the past very few years. Others might argue that the current severe economic problems of the state carry over to local school districts. How ridiculous. This explanation is so logical that it cannot possibly be true. The fault, therefore, must be elsewhere. It has to be a plot. Blame must be assigned.

The teachers of the Wayne-Westland Schools are the most likely culprits.

We have, after all, been paid so much that most of us are having difficulty deciding whether to buy Lincolns or Cadillacs, or whether to vacation in the South of France or in Monaco. (My car looks like a nine year old Chevrolet; it is actually a new Cadillac in disguise.)

I agree with Mrs. Runion's view that teachers have lost their dedication and are no longer interested in the welfare of students. It may appear that teachers show genuine interest and also appear to be dedicated, but this is just a smokescreen.

Many teachers have no time for students because they are involved in clearly subversive and even evil organizations and activities. Some teachers I know actually belong to the P.T.A. and everyone knows about this left-wing radical group. Other questionable groups teachers knowingly join include the Book-of-the-Month Club, the Audubon Society, and Trout Unlimited.

Also, as I walked by a teacher's classroom the other day, I heard a strange incantation being read from what was clearly a scurrilous book. The words were, "Double, double, toil and trouble; Fire burn and cauldron bubble." This teacher undoubtedly belongs to a coven of witches, and was trying to convert those students. Appalling! I also know that many teachers favor fluoridation of water, which is a well-known Communist conspiracy.

Some radicals might suggest that teachers must raise children, pay bills, pay taxes, and worry about day-to-day problems, just as other people do. This is not true; it is just vicious propaganda. Their real goal is to take over the school system, then the state, then the country.

Something must be done, and I think Ms. Runion is on the right track. I know she must have all the correct solutions to the Wayne-Westland School District's problems, but, poor reader that I am, I'm having difficulty understanding all her clever explanations. I can deduce from her letters the following: (A) She doesn't like teachers or teachers' unions very much; (B) she doesn't like five of the seven board members; and (C) she doesn't like Superintendent Tim Dyer.

Somewhere in her well-justified diatribes against these evils, there must be logical, intelligent suggestions for cures for the school district's problems, but I guess I'm just not subtle enough to understand Ms. Runion's solution, which are obviously the products of a superior, well-trained logical mind. We should all unite behind Ms. Runion and the people she supports. Those who think her arguments sound like mere mudslinging and egotistical ranting must be ignored. After all, people with ideas similar to Ms. Runion's made the Taylor School District into a model district, and solved all the Taylor Schools' problems.

I have a suggestion for Dr. Dyer, if heeded, will solve all the difficulties facing the schools. Please resign, Dr. Dyer, and take your co-conspirators in Central Administration with you. Then, advise the school board to appoint Ms. Runion as Superintendent. Her superior wisdom, academic preparation, administrative experience and personal integrity will save us from the grim evils of teachers, administrators, and certain board members, who pose such a threat to our schools, our community, our country, and our precious bodily fluids.

'Don't go with strangers' helpful

EDITOR — The Quirk School staff would like to express our gratitude and appreciation to the Van Buren Township Police Department and especially officers Haney and Laskaska for the excellent presentation of the "Don't Go With Strangers" program.

The officers willingly extended their time schedule so that every child could see the film as well as talk to the officers informally during the lunch hour.

We commend the fine example set by these two men and their concern for the safety of our children.

I think the weakest part of your paper is the sports because you cover more on the other schools than Romulus.

I think that the paper should give more coverage to sports.

Other ways that I think you can improve your paper is more pictures and coverage about the Romulus schools sports since it only comes out once a week, you can give some more information.

Separating truth from fiction

EDITOR — West coast author Joseph Wambaugh once devoted an entire chapter to one of his characters who 'became a legend in his own time'. This honor was based on an event that actually occurred. I have accomplished this honor based only on myth and word of mouth.

Not wishing to receive such an honor based only on myth, I will attempt to separate truth from fiction.

Legend has it that if I were elected to the school board of Wayne-Westland that I would crush elementary school buildings with one large flat-foot. Also, legend has it that with a mere stroke of my pen K-12 education would reach its lowest ebb. All myth!

It just isn't true that if I walked onto a football field the goal posts would fall and the grass turn brown; nor is it true that gymnasiums would collapse should I enter there. There's absolutely no truth to the legend that the Soviet Union has contacted me to break the Solidarity Union in Poland.

Another part of the legend is that should I even attend a band function that the musical instruments would never again attain the musical tone and clarity they once enjoyed. Not true, I once was within three feet of a piano and to this day that piano is still in tune. Only occasionally do I have minced teacher for breakfast. Basically, I am a vegetarian; and never has my glare shocked children to the point they cannot recover and still learn to read.

I am not the Satanic ogre I have been depicted in the legend. I have no intention, nor authority to close all the elementary schools in the district. I have no intention to eliminate the sports programs in the district. I am not a union breaker, bent on revenge.

Becoming a legend on such scant information is amusing, but also causes me grave concern. People who circulate such legends bear watching; but the people who believe such legends bear even closer scrutiny. And to quote a well-known local figure, "Only God knows", who those people are.

Reflections

To dream about miracles

SACRAMENTO, CALIF. — I have said goodbye to my sisters and I am writing this beside the pool, with the warm California sun caressing me, and the cool waters of the pool beckoning.

And I am thinking of miracles. Pansies are nodding their little yellow heads at me and there are bushes of flowers for which I have no name, sending out their fragrance to me.

I pluck one of them and look down, down into infinity, for there in its depths are the answers to the universe. I lose myself in its beauty and submerge into its infinite promise as the soul does to glorious music.

A bumble bee buzzes angrily around the flower I hold in my hand, challenging me to its possession. I reluctantly let go and watch the bit of color drift towards the iron fence, the bee in hot pursuit.

I look again at the pool. I have already swam 60 lengths and my body feels good from the exercise.

My son comes out to join me and we watch a small plane circling above us. I wave and it dips slightly in acknowledgement.

"Look," I say to my son. "The pilot thinks I'm a young, slender blonde!"

"Ha," my kid laughs. "How can he think you're a young slender blond with that mop of white hair and those short fat legs?"

I push him into the pool. It is easy to believe in miracles surrounded as I am by God's miracles.

Two young women pass by me, their long legs brown and glistening; their shining hair bouncing on their shoulders. They lie down by the side of the pool and their laughter ripples across it in waves.

Mrs. Cox comes to the pool, her huge blue eyes carrying secret sorrows. I met her yesterday as we shared the jacuzzi. She will be leaving today to fly to the side of a son who has just been told his entire body has been invaded by cancer.

We talk of children and we talk of life. We also talk of miracles, and we agree that life is a miracle and that death holds the mystery of miracles and then we talk of hope. We talk of hope being what life feeds on and we agree that hope is the greatest miracle of all.

But she is a mother and I am a mother and without words we agree.

As she leaves she touches my hand and says "thank you," and I return her touch and I say "thank you," for never will I be exactly the same since she allowed me to glimpse her sadness and her hope. Yet we will probably never meet again.

Two young people lie side by side by the pool, completely oblivious to all others around as they cuddle, and touch and nuzzle. The miracle of love.

Tomorrow I will be leaving here. I will say goodbye to my son and his bride and I will go home, filled with the sense of miracles, tanned by the California sun, and eager to be back where each day is a miracle of love as my family surrounds me, and I feel their touch and see their smiles.

MONA GRIGG

as much as I would like to go on, sympathizing, it seems to me he could have at least worded his announcement a little differently.

There aren't many employers — especially in this day and age — who would be willing to go out on a limb and hire a man who had just recently gotten rid of himself.

It stands to reason that any potential employer/interviewer would have no choice but to scribble across the now ex-city manager's application, "The applicant lacked substance."

(NOTE: If this column looks familiar to you, it's because it first ran in October, 1981. I figure, since the Ann Landers flap, honesty is the best policy about these things.)

Budget cutting the hard way

I read in the paper that the city manager of a certain 1,000 resident upper peninsula village came up with an amazing clever idea for saving roughly 10 percent of the village's $300,000 annual budget.

He recommended that council eliminate the city manager's position.

(No, I'm not going to mention the name of the village. I will tell you, though, that it's the village right next to the village where I was born... and since, as you will see, there are implications far beyond simple altruism here, and since I like to visit the village every now and then, it shall remain nameless. And curiosity killed the cat, besides.)

Anyway, this particular council, with visions of percentages dancing around in their wee little heads, voted unanimously in favor of the proposal.

After the final vote, the now ex-city manager, apparently dazzled by his own audacity (for want of a better word), could only say, "It wasn't an easy decision. I don't enjoy getting rid of myself."

I shouldn't wonder. It's never easy getting rid of oneself. And it's especially difficult to get rid of oneself and still be around to say, "I don't enjoy getting rid of myself". One usually doesn't have that option.

Personally, I think that particular council acted a little hastily. Maybe they should reconsider and give that poor man a second chance.

I can't help but wonder if, in the act of doing his duty, and in the heat of the budget-cutting moment, he simply forgot who the city manager was.

On the other hand, maybe he was grandstanding. Maybe he was saying, in effect, "See, I'm taking my budget-cutting responsibilities so seriously, I'm even willing to let you consider doing away with my — heh, heh — job."

Of course, I don't expect you to really do it — heh, heh — it's just my little way of expressing my willingness to explore all avenues."

But maybe council had other things on their minds at the time and didn't get the "heh, heh".

Another possibility is that he really had been thinking of getting rid of himself for some time. It can happen. I've done it myself from time to time.

Fortunately, since there was no urgency attached to my decision, I have been saved up to now by my penchant for procrastination.

Then, too, there wasn't $30,000 at stake. Nor did I have to worry about an over-zealous city council being ready to pounce on my ponderings at any given moment, then rushing to make them a reality before I could even say, "Heh, heh."

Whatever the reasons, what's done is done — and the end of this strange-but-true story is sad, if predictable:

Since that unfortunate turn of events, the now ex-city manager hasn't had one single job offer.

In all honesty, could he have expected anything else? I mean,

Doomsday

Doomsday is upon us

They look with great euphoria
To catastrophe's results.

Astrology, ideology,
And science fiction's claim,
Back to seers and sages
Of Medieval History's fame.

There's a certain fascination
In this mystic cavalcade.
Superstitious millions
March in its parade.

There is no sober thinking
In the vast majority.
Scientific thought has found
A mediocrity.

Science and technology
Has given evidence
That reason will prevail
In place of ignorance.

News on our grads

Lawler to receive ensign's commission at Annapolis

On May 26, Gregory Michael Lawler, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Lawler of 8166 Kirkridge Park, Belleville, will graduate from the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis as a member of the class of 1982. Lawler will be commissioned as an ensign in the U.S. Navy and will report to Pensacola, Fla. in September to commence training as a weapons officer in naval aircraft.

A 1977 alumnus of Notre Dame High School in Harper Woods, the future ensign spent a year at Marion Military Institute in Alabama to prepare for application to the naval academy. He was nominated by Sen. Donald Riegle and received the appointment in April of 1978.

Lawler has been active in brigade sports at Annapolis chalking up time in football, basketball and track. He recently was awarded a special commendation as Player-Coach of the 1982 Championship Basketball Team.

He also has appeared at a number of area high schools as a speaker for the Naval Academy and has received several awards for his efforts in promoting the institute in its attempt to attract worthy young people.

Scholarships come from EMU

Eastern Michigan University's Financial Aid Office has announced that 412 students have been selected to receive the University's Recognition of Excellence Awards.

Those earning the school's $1,000 scholarships must have earned a minimum 3.5 grade point average in high school or community college and demonstrate outstanding leadership. One award has been designated for each community college and high school in Michigan. Additional awards are given to Michigan schools and out-of-state schools as funds permit.

Belleville High School students so honored were Ann G. Askew, 50951 Expressway; Diane L. Bechel, 47554 W. Huron River Drive; Clifford T. Cicotte, 45473 Lilac Lane; and Michael T. Winne of 45063 Robson; and from Romulus High School, Robert Bales of 15446 Anthony Avenue.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: "About our grads" is a column for you — the alumni from Belleville, Romulus, Huron and Lincoln High Schools — and we don't mean just "the kids" either. We want to hear from you "more seasoned" grads as well. Tell us what you're doing, if you've received a promotion, if you've moved to an interesting place, if you've met or if you hob nob with celebrities, if you've had something published, if you've gotten an award of any kind, if you've joined a club, fraternity, sorority, etc. How about those who're in college or have earned their degrees? Are you or were you on any of the sports or debates teams? Are you on a work-study or foreign study program? Send your information to Lee Smith, Box 278, Belleville, 48111 or give us a call on Thursdays at 697-9191. We'd love to hear from you!)

Nursing degree earned at EMU

Cathleen Ann (Cathy) Hoeft, a 1969 graduate of Belleville High School, was among the 1,327 students receiving degrees April 24 at spring commencement exercises at Eastern Michigan University's Bowen Field House.

She was awarded a bachelor of science in nursing degree and plans, initially, to work in medical-surgical nursing.

The new RN is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoeft of 133 Wabash St., Belleville.

By Lee Smith
Suburban Living Editor

I find myself just a wee bit in awe everytime I receive a news item or club bulletin from a local senior citizen organization, see them on television rallying for a cause or lending their talents to community activities. The pace they set for themselves is, in a word — moving!

The May-June calendar for one of this area's groups reads like the travel section of the big dailies and is enticing with all its planned trips for members to take. And — if someone is the least bit indecisive — what a time he/she must have making up his/her mind as to which tour to choose.

How'd you like to be faced with an upcoming itinerary which tempts you with the Libbey-Owen Glass store display in Toledo on June 4th and dinner after at Tony Packo's (which MASH'S Klinger brought to fame.)? Or a two-day jaunt to Shipshawana in the heart of the Indiana Amish settlement for a look-see at their unmotorized, simple mode of life and one of their family-style dinners; plus — a stop at the world's largest flea market on the 8th and 9th? Or — a leisurely, nostalgia cruise, picnic and fun day on Bob-lo Island on the 11th? And that's just ONE week!

I sometimes think the label "senior citizen" is a misnomer for these up-and-at-'em men and women. SC, somehow, denotes staid, complacent, slow-moving, sedentary characters content to wile away their hours in rocking chairs. Wrong, oh wrong!

These groups of "latter-agers" (who could well be tagged "swingers" if the term didn't imply a bit of hanky-panky) not only square dance like pros but do a mean fox trot and jitterbug and often outshine the younger set when they take to the floor for a rock number or bit of western-style foot stompin'.

Perhaps the label for those worldly guys and gals should be something akin to The Go-Getters; Over 50 and Flying High; the Younger-than-ever Set or Ready 'n' Rarin! These people MOVE!

Along with the traveling and dancing, they get out regularly for bowling, swimming, golfing, physical fitness routines, potlucks, birthday and anniversary parties, picnics, the theater and etcetera. They're no strangers, either, to whipping up garage sales, arts and crafts shows, flower and plant sales and baked goods counters. They'll be included in our Strawberry Festival, you can count on that, and often give local service clubs a helping hand with their many projects.

Come May 28th, they'll be toolin' on down I-94 for a refreshing visit to the Stroh Brewery and a couple days earlier they'll be dining at Carl's Chop House. Then, come the end of June, many of them will be heading for the hills — the Black Hills and Mount Rushmore — and will "do" America and parts of Canada during a 24-day journey.

There's just no holding 'em down!

BYE BYE TAUREANS

Here's just a bit more about you Taureans before your sign sings its swan song; you're through as of tomorrow.

And let's start with the matter of love in which you are an earthly romantic. You are emotional, sensual, pragmatic and never feel totally complete without a partner. Although you have a hard time showing it, you are highly vulnerable and fear rejection to the point of obsession.

You are monogamous to the point of tying up your total being into one person. It's easy to sacrifice your own interests for your partner's and to put your own growth and development in the background.

Because you are so down-to-earth, you don't look to be dazzled by a whirlwind romance. Instead, you prefer quiet evenings with homemade cooking and a flicker of candlelight.

In any love scene, you are pleasure-loving, warm and cuddly but at times you tend to be jealous and overly possessive. Marriage is a must for you and life is not meaningful unless you have someone to come home to.

Among those supposedly endowed with those tendencies is one of our latest Oscar recipients, Henry (Golden Pond) Fonda who reached 77 years of age on the 16th. That, too, was the 63rd birthday of Liberace.

Actress Maureen O'Sullivan, born on May 17 in 1911, blew out 71 candles on her birthday cake Monday.

And this is hard for me to believe (you, too?) — but dear, ageless Perry Como became a septuagenarian — yep, 70 — May 18, the same day that Pernell (Trapper John) Roberts claims as his natal date (no year given) as does Margot Fonteyn, who was 63.

And today (his competition) people in the television industry are wishing David Hartman not only Good Morning but Happy Birthday. He's 47.

Tomorrow the Gemini bows in with its twin personality (more about that next week) and ushering in the new zodiac sign are George Gobel, who'll be 63; Cher, 36; and James (Harvey) Stewart, 74.

Raymond (Ironside) Burr and Robert Montgomery have a mutual May 21 date and they'll be 65 and 78, respectively. And bringing the week to a close are Sir Laurence Olivier, who'll reach the grand old age of 75; Richard Benjamin, who'll turn 44 and Peter Nero, 48.

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS

- The term "taffeta" comes from the Persian word taffah, meaning twisted or woven.
- Whew! Leo Tolstoy's wife copied the manuscript of his epic novel "War and Peace" by hand seven times.
- The tadpole state of a frog's life can last between two weeks and two years.

THE BOTTOM LINE: Somehow, as we get older, we enjoy remembering things that didn't seem worth remembering as a child.

Shake up your mornings!

What's it like at your house in the morning? Perhaps there's no time to sit down for breakfast. Maybe you have a family but everyone keeps his own work or school schedule, and breakfast is something each person gets for himself. Or perhaps you're part of that growing group called single person households. If any of these descriptions fits your situation, Orangey-Banana Shake may be breakfast's best bet.

All the ingredients for this breakfast drink are probably in your refrigerator or on the pantry shelf right now. Just put them in a blender. In about 30 seconds, breakfast is ready.

With 380 calories to get your morning off to an energetic start, this nutritious breakfast drink supplies 100% of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance for vitamin C as well as 25% of the U.S. RDA for protein, 30% vitamin A and riboflavin and 20% thiamine. It also contributes significant amounts of calcium, iron and phosphorus.

Make the "fast" in breakfast really mean something. Orangey-Banana Shake will get your day off to a quick, nutritious start. And, for a switch, try Apricot Orange Nog.

Orangey-Banana Shake

1 small banana, cut into chunks

- 1 container (8 oz.) plain yogurt
- 2 tablespoons wheat germ
- 1 tablespoon Tang orange flavor instant breakfast drink
- 1 tablespoon honey
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 ice cube

Combine all ingredients in blender container. Blend until smooth, about 30 seconds. Serve at once. Makes 1-1/2 cups or 1 serving.

Apricot Orange Nog

- 2 tablespoons Tang orange flavor instant breakfast drink
- 1 egg
- 1 cup milk
- 1 can (6 fl. oz.) apricot nectar
- 1/2 cup crushed ice

Combine instant breakfast drink and egg in blender container. Add remaining ingredients; blend well and serve at once. Makes 2-1/4 cups or 4 servings, 1/2 cup each, or 2 servings, about 1 cup each.

Note: Use clean egg with no cracks in shell.

Installation of officers held by PM's

The May 6 meeting of the Past Matrons Association of Belleville Chapter No. 73, OES, was held at the Robson Road home of Past Matron Elda Bohl.

Present for the 12:30 luncheon were 18 members and one guest, Courtney Sikes, grand daughter of Kay Parker.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Roberta Pond, with the chaplain, Mae Fielder, having the devotions.

The newly-elected officers, installed by Florence Sugars were president, Roberta Pond; vice-president, Florence McKelvey; secretary, Pauline Quinley; treasurer, Frances Cothorn; and chaplain, Mae Fielder.

Lucky winners of the drawings were Ruby Clayton, Dorothy Kellas, Florence McKelvey and Mae Fielder.

The June hostess will be Cora Bradshaw.

Osak-Lauth wedding planned for October

MISS OSAK

The engagement of their daughter, Robin Lynn Osak, and Paul Edmond Lauth is announced by Don and Nancy Osak of 9502 Haggerty Rd., Belleville.

Currently working as a teller for National Bank of Detroit, the bride-elect graduated in 1981 from Belleville High School.

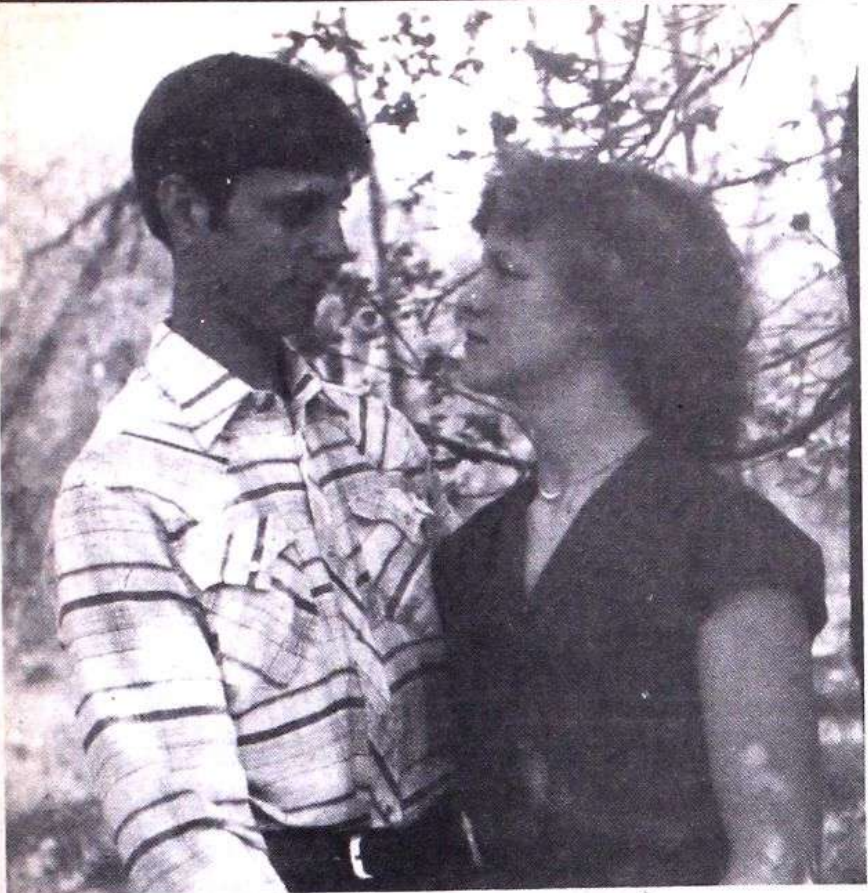

Her fiancé, the son of Edmond and Gloyce Lauth of 44970 Bemis Rd., Belleville, is a 1977 Belleville High School alumnus now working for Cook Enterprises.

St. Anthony's Catholic Church has been reserved for their October 23 altar date.

Quotes worth quoting . . .

"An atheist is a man who has no invisible means of support."

John Buchanan, Lord Tweedsmuir, said it.

Wedding planned

Pamela Jean Short of 1157 Share Ave., Ypsilanti, and Terry John Tinsley of 4844 Huron River Dr., Belleville, are engaged and making plans for their June 5 wedding. The daughter of William J. Short II of Ypsilanti and Pauline L. Short of Canada, the bride-elect attended St. John's Catholic School and Washtenaw Community College. She is currently working at the University of Michigan. Her fiancé, a Belleville High School graduate, is the son of John Tinsley of Wixom and Lois Pinson of Belleville. He is employed at M&B Contracting Company of Novi. The couple will be married at St. John's Catholic Church in Ypsilanti.

New on the scene

Amanda Jolene Pietrowski

The birth of their third daughter, Amanda Jolene, is announced by Gary and Pam Pietrowski of 11098 Buchanan, Belleville. Making her debut at 9:14 a.m. at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, the new sister of Tammy Renee, who's three, and Heather Nicole, 19 months, weighed 6 lbs.-10 ozs, and measured 20 inches.

The girls' grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pietrowski of Westland and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Warren of Wayne.

Great-grandparents receiving the news included Mrs. Josephine Beiss of Marine City; Mrs. Ella Warren of Decaturville, Tenn. and Mr. and Mrs. Nealous Kelley of Bass Springs, Tenn.

Amanda's mother is the former Pam Warren of Wayne.

Matthew Thomas Montie

Matthew Thomas is the name chosen for the 6 lb.-11 oz. baby boy born April 29 to Thomas G. and Patricia K. Montie of 975 Estrada, #702, Belleville.

Putting in his appearance at 5:32 p.m. at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn, the 20½-inch infant is the new brother of 10-year-old Gina Montie and the new grandson of the Donald G. Harners of Belleville and the George S. Monties of Dearborn.

St. Joseph residents Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Harners are the proud great-grandparents.

Mrs. Montie is the former Patricia Harners.

Stacey Marie DePalma

A baby girl, weighing 6 lbs.-8 ozs. and measuring 18½ inches was born May 5 to Jackie DePalma and John M. Funsch of 10892 Textile Rd., Belleville.

The newcomer arrived at 10:53 a.m. at Beyer Hospital in Ypsilanti and is the granddaughter of Norma and John T. Funsch of Belleville; Wanda Gardner of Ypsilanti and Anthony DePalma of Las Vegas, Nev.

Great-grandparents are Bill and Mary Israel of Ypsilanti; Jeanette Hilo of Hawaii; Marie Polizzi of Las Vegas and Catherine Funsch of Mt. Morris.

Robert Christopher Blankenship

From Arlington, Va. comes word that "It's a boy!" from the proud parents, the Kevin Blankenships, whose first-born child made his appearance May 12.

The 9 lb.-8½ oz. newcomer, Robert Christopher, who measured 21½ inches, is the new grandson of the Larry Nollfs of Owego, N.Y., his mother being the former Linda Nollf.

The baby is the fifth great-grandchild of the Walter Nollfs of Belleville. Another great-grandparent, Mrs. William Kenney, resides in Lake City.

Aaron James Smith

The arrival of their fifth grandchild, Aaron James Smith, is announced by Wallace and Hylma Smith of Geddes Road, Belleville.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Highland, the new heir was born May 13 at Pontiac General Hospital, weighed in at 8 lbs.-7½ ozs. and measured 20 inches.

His maternal grandparents, who make their home in Rochester, are Mr. and Mrs. M. Allison.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This column is available to all those wishing to announce the birth of their children or grandchildren born in this area or elsewhere. We ask only that there be some connection with Belleville, Romulus, New Boston and the outlying townships. Former residents are invited to send news of their additions as well.)

By Mrs. Joesph Spring 699-4021

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Buck recently returned from Baltimore, Md. where they had spent a week with their son and wife, Dr. and Mrs. James Buck and children, Nicole and James. Dr. Buck recently accepted the position of pediatric surgeon at Johns Hopkins School of Medicine and is also assistant professor of pediatric surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Baehr returned home May 9 from Orlando, Fla. where they had attended the Retired United Airlines Employees Convention. While there they also toured the Kennedy Space Center and visited friends in Lakeland, Inverness and Eustis.

On Sunday, May 9, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stevens and Suzanne joined members of the family from Morenci at the home of Mrs. Ruth Shoup at Lake LeAnn in celebration of Mothers' Day.

Guests at the Vernon Ketchum home since their return from Florida were members of their family Douglas and Judith Ketchum of Otsego and Tom and Heidi Ketchum and son, Brian, of Kalamazoo.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton enjoyed Mothers' Day dinner with their daughter, Rebecca and husband, Hugh Muncie, and their boys at Brighton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Riggs of Trenton and Mrs. Donald Wright of Ypsilanti were luncheon guests last Wednesday of Mrs. S. Richard Hamilton of East Huron River Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Butler of Milan spent Sunday with the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dolph of Edgar Street.

Sunday callers at the Henry Deering home were old-time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Springstein of Carson City who were residents of this area during World War II.

Patti and Jim McCloskey entertained at a family dinner May 9 in honor of the latter's mother, Mrs. Sophie Gorney. Present besides the McCloskey children, Jamey, Shannon and Ryan, were Fred and Kathy Gorney and daughter, Jenny; Mrs. Gorney's sisters and their husbands, Jean and Edward Wenderski of Detroit and Stella and Henry Golka of Brooklyn and also two neighbor boys, Edward and Tony Smith, who brought Mrs. Gorney a wind charm.

Mr. and Mrs. LaMarr Gress enjoyed dinner Mothers' Day with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Paladi-no of Romulus. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paladino and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alexander of Garden City.

Word has been received here by relatives that John Savage, a one-time resident of Wabash Street, now living with his daughter in Salem, Ore., has been hospitalized with a heart condition. Cards may be addressed to 3045 Oakcrest Dr. N.W. Salem, Ore., 97304.

Mrs. Clayton Saunders spent Mothers' Day week-end with her son and grandson, Lynn and Jeffrey Saunders of Clinton Township.

A nephew, Mark Fritsma, and three friends from Grand Rapids were recent callers on the former's great-aunt, Mrs. Henry Sager.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Murphy returned recently from Manchester, Tenn. where they had spent a week visiting the latter's sister and husband, Bedia and Clyde Woods and other relatives.

Mrs. Marjorie Potter and Miss Aldine Potter were dinner guests Mothers' Day of the former's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard La Moynes and family of Livonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Buck and Mrs.

Milton Smith were Mothers' Day guests of the former's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pawlowski of Milan. The ladies' sister, Mrs. Evon Harrison, of Wayne, accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWain Watson and family of Pottsville and Debra and Paul Cartwright of the Expressway enjoyed an outdoor barbecue breakfast with their mother, Mrs. Alice Herkimer May 9. Later in the day Mrs. Herkimer was a dinner guest of former Roland Street residents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. George Maki were week-end guests of their son, Alan and his wife Sharon and small daughter at Elkton.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wilson attended the funeral of the former's cousin, Orley Hodgson of Wheatley, Ont., at the Dupont Funeral Home in Leamington, Ont. May 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Potts, Mrs. Penny Allen and son Steven, and Mrs. Potts' sister, Mrs. Helen Staron of Westland, enjoyed dinner Mothers' Day at Bill Knapp's.

Mrs. Jon McClory of Northville and her mother, Mrs. S.C. Pierman, accompanied the latter's other daughter, Mrs. Scott Preuninger of Manchester, to the Mother-Daughter banquet at the United Methodist in Manchester, May 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton were dinner guests last Saturday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Mann of Wayne.

Recent callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Park E. Gregory were her mother, Mrs. Chloe R. Bradley of Jackson; her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Chaffin Jr. and son Andrew of Richmond, Texas, and, their daughter, Gloria Gardner, and her children Jessica and Robert.

Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. Gardner and Jessica and Robert attended the Mother-Daughter Tea with Mrs. Bradley at Marlin Manor in Jackson on May 8. They were the only four generation group present.

One way, it's a snack. Another way, it's a fruit sauce. Try it yet a third way and it's a delicate meat accompaniment. Best of all, this versatile recipe requires just two ingredients — plain yogurt and Kool-Aid brand orange flavor sugar-sweetened soft drink mix. Just blend 1 tablespoon of the soft drink mix into one 8-oz. container of yogurt. Enjoy it right from the container as a snack or light lunch.

Or keep it on hand to spoon over fruit. In the morning, try it over a wedge of honeydew or other favorite melon.

BPW Club attends District XIII meet

Sixteen members of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) attended the District XIII spring meeting along with eight other clubs in the district. The Niki award, which is given to the club with the largest attendance, went to the Trenton BPW.

Bonnie Pavlat, of Belleville was installed as secretary when officers for 1982-83 were presented. Others at the helm include Virginia Bucholtz, director; Bernadine Nichel, assistant-director and Linda Riley, treasurer. Irene Christie of Belleville had held the secretarial post for the past two years.

Three candidates for Young Careerist were presented, among them Connie Testorelli from the Belleville BPW. Cynthia Targosz of River Rouge received the accolade and will represent District XIII at the state convention in Battle Creek in June.

The club hopes to have Cora Rose Horton of Battle Creek, formerly of Belleville, honored as a "golden member" at the convention since she has been a BPW member for 52 years.

Romulus parents for 'council in support of school millage renewal'

By SHARON POPEK
(Special Writer)

Roger Cadaret is serving as chairman of a parents committee working to pass the 8½-mill renewal package scheduled for the School Election on June 14.

Cadaret said: "It is our intention to inform the concerned Romulus citizens that the millage request is a continuation of existing tax levels and that it is still desperately needed.

"We are confident that when the voters understand the importance of this money, the renewal will pass.

"We won't withdraw our support from our own community," he concluded.

The millage request represents 20 percent of the school district's annual operating budget.

Also working to help pass the millage renewal is the Romulus Parents Area Council which held a special meeting at Merriman School, last Monday, May 17.

Officers of the organization, which represent all the school-parent groups, are Howard Kesner (president, Pat Ditsch (Vice-President), Carole Bales (Secretary) and Lorraine Wilkerson (Treasurer).

Membership in this group is comprised of school related groups throughout the community.

Representatives of the Romulus Education Association met with the group last Monday. The next regular meeting is scheduled for June 7 at 7:30 p.m. It will be held at Barth Elementary School.

The Romulus Parents Area Council hopes that the June 14 election will bring forth "a positive vote as well as a more positive attitude toward public education."

Any parent is welcome to attend the meetings and if more information is needed, please call Howard Kesner at 941-1825.

Don't forget the Romulus Athletic Booster Club Auction scheduled for Saturday, June 12 on the high school athletic field.

Auctioneer Junior Block promises that it will start at 1:00 and "last until everything is gone."

New and used items of all kinds are needed to make this a success. Please send anything you'd like to contribute to school with your child.

If you need something picked up, please call Mary King at 941-1441 or Judy Schick at 941-2273.

What you own

*You're part of God's whole universe.
You have all that you can see.
You own the space you occupy
Wherever that may be.*

*The ground you cover 'neath your feet
Is yours just 'cause it's there.
The water, earth, and sunshine
Are as free as God's pure air.*

*Whatever you imagine,
Or what you may observe,
Contains what gives all life
In a state of its reserve.*

*The music in the void of space,
The fragrance in the breeze,
Belongs to all your senses
To put you well at ease.*

*Though you travel far and wide,
Or stay just where you are,
You're as worthy as the rainbow
Or as any golden star.*

*You have the right to be alive
Enjoying all you're seeing.
The only thing you cannot own
Is another human being.*

Reserve police officer training

In an effort to create more professional, efficient officers, the Van Buren Township Police Department recently had six reserve officers complete the Oakland Police Training Academy. The officers: John Orskey, class president, Bernard Czajkowski, Timothy Dockter, Gregory Laurain, Keith Smyth and Steven Wegerbauer participated in graduation ceremonies May 1, 1982 and received certification as policemen. The department, in addition, has started a training class extended to all reserve officers. The reserve unit is being instructed by Patrolman Robert Mercer under the leadership of the unit's director, Dick Waddell. This volunteer force will be drilled in departmental policies and regulations, proper radio procedures, report writing and other numerous duties concerning law enforcement. Police Commissioner Tom Welty and Acting Chief Gary Holloway believe the training will result in an improved, polished reserve unit.

Eagles, Blue Angels to perform

'That's Incredible' air show is flying to Willow Run

The nation's top civilian aerobatic team, The Eagles, will perform at the Detroit Willow Run Air Show, June 12 and 13, at the Willow Run Airport. The Eagles have performed their aerobatic routine on

"That's Incredible" with all three airplanes chained together.

Charlie Hillard, Gene Soucy and Tom Poberezny are the Eagles pilots, and all are former U.S. aerobatic champions. They have been flying together as a team for ten years and have developed familiarity and confidence which results in almost perfect formation flight.

The Eagles aircraft, the beautiful Christen Eagle biplane is the most successful new sport aircraft design in recent years. With a powerful 260 Lycoming engine smoke system and beautiful colorings, the Eagle is, in the team leader Charlie Hillard's words, the perfect air show airplane.

The combination of three championship aerobatic pilots and the Eagle airplane results in a performance that is the most exciting air act on the air show circuit. From a snap roll on take-off to the bomb-burst and triple hammerhead, the Eagles fly their airplanes as if they were welded in position. Altitude ranges from 25 feet to 1,400 feet and airspeeds from zero mph to more than 200 mph.

In addition to the Eagles, the Detroit Willow Run Air Show 1982 will feature the U.S. Navy Blue Angels; Bob Hoover, solo aerobatics; U.S. Army Golden Knights parachute team and dozens of World War II and static display aircraft. Gates open at 11 a.m. each day with the feature show starting at 1 p.m.

Once an Eagle

The Eagles, as seen on ABC TV's "That's Incredible" will fly their formation aerobatics on June 12 and June 13 at the Willow Run Airport.

USDA extends maturity date on '81 crop corn

Producers with 1981-crop corn and grain sorghum commodity loans now have the option to extend their loans for an additional six months, according to Earl Dolezky, Chairman of the Washtenaw County ASC Committee.

"This option is being offered because prices for these commodities are currently low," Dolezky said. All producers with outstanding loans on these commodities are eligible, he said.

Extended 1981-crop loans will continue to bear interest at the rate applicable to the loan. Interest in 1981-crop loans is calculated to reflect the U.S. Department of Agriculture's cost of borrowing money from the U.S. Treasury.

Producers wishing to extend their loans should contact their county office of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Dolezky said.

Campaign '82 in Belleville

Dick Headlee (second from left), a frontrunner among Republican candidates for Governor, was in town last week to speak to a joint meeting of the members of Belleville Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs and what the tax-cut advocate had to say was this: "More taxes aren't the solution to the state's economic doldrums." Later pointing out that the members of the State Tax Commission have displayed "an arrogant disregard for the realities of today's housing market in Michigan," Headlee called upon their resignation and replacement with either homeowners or realtors who understand what is happening in the state. Headlee is pictured with hosts Fred Hudson, (at left) who serves as president of the Kiwanis Club, and Tom and Pat DiPietro. Tom is president of the Rotary in Belleville.

At Kelsey-Hayes

Arthur Kowalski named vice president, International

The appointment of Arthur A. Kowalski as Vice President, International, is announced by James S. Wilkerson, President and Chief Executive Officer, Kelsey-Hayes Company, subsidiary of Fruehauf Corporation Detroit, Michigan.

In the new post, he will be responsible for the international activities of the company including the recently opened office in Paris, France.

Kowalski joined Kelsey-Hayes in 1961, and has most recently served as Vice President, Marketing and Sales for the firm's Automotive Group.

A registered professional engineer, he holds B.S.M.E. and M.B.A. degrees from the University of Detroit, and a Masters Degree in Automotive Engineering from the Chrysler Institute.

A member of the D.A.C., the Society of Automotive Engineers and the Engineering Society of Detroit, Kowalski is married, has six children and lives in West Bloomfield, Michigan.

Women are catching up Area orthopedic surgeon says men prone to knee injuries

A suburban Wayne County orthopedic surgeon who performs more than 200 knee operations a year says men are still more prone to serious knee injuries than women, but the more physically active younger women of today are beginning to catch up.

In an analysis of surgery he performed during the past year, Dr. Leonard M. Pickering found that men patients in the "middle years" (31-60) outnumbered women 79 per cent to 21 per cent. But in the youth group, age 30 and under, the number of women undergoing surgery increased to 31 per cent.

Dr. Pickering attributes the generally higher incidence of knee injuries among men to male involvement in more strenuous forms of work and play. Until recently, he says, most knee injuries to women occurred in the home or car accidents.

However, typical of his recent women patients injured through athletic activity were a 25-year-old Taylor racquetball instructor, a 21-year-old softball player, a 27-year-old skiing hobbyist and a 17-year-old basketball player.

Dr. Pickering specializes in the arthroscopic method of "small puncture" examination and surgery, without a large open incision. He uses fiber-optical viewers attached to a TV monitor to look inside the knee, with the patient under anesthesia, and microsurgical instruments to repair any detected injuries.

While not all knee injuries can be repaired by the arthroscopic method, Dr. Pickering says, it has proven effective with most of the more common ones. Its advantages are more accurate diagnosis, quicker healing and a shorter, less costly hospital confinement.

Dr. Pickering has been performing arthroscopic knee surgery since 1973. He has offices in Southgate and performs most of his surgery at Wyandotte General Hospital.

The Rawsonville Parent-Teacher Action Group is readying its annual school carnival, the "Rawsonville Rodeo."

There will be free pony rides, a dunk tank full of teachers and the principal, a haunted maze, a car smash, computer games, and lots of games, food and fun.

The day for the rodeo is Friday (May 21) from 5 p.m. until 9 p.m., at Rawsonville Elementary 3110 Grove, Ypsilanti. "We'll all be dressed in western garb and ready to welcome ya', Pardner, so ya'll come," a school official says.

Views On Dental Health

By PHILIP MEIZELS, D.D.S.

WHY A "TEMPORARY" FILLING?

Have you ever had your dentist tell you he was using a "temporary filling" and wondered why? No, my friend, it is not a ploy so he can get a second crack at you. This is a perfectly proper dental procedure.

It is referred to as "indirect capping," and is used in cases where the nerve (or pulp) would be exposed if all the decay were removed from the cavity. Regarded as a conservative treatment, the application of medicated cement in the temporary filling helps the pulp of the tooth to repair itself by containing the decay and allowing the buildup of a wall of tooth structure between the pulp and the decayed material.

This is a "holding action". When your dentist removes the temporary filling, he may take an X-ray to determine if the pulp has healed. If so, the balance of the decay is removed, and a permanent restoration, or filling, can be placed in the tooth.

In summary, your dentist is trying to keep your tooth alive, avoiding the need for a root canal filling, pulp capping, or extraction of the tooth.

A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of PHILIP MEIZELS, D.D.S., 9840 Haggerty Rd., Belleville. Phone 697-4400.

It's all history now

Mt. Pleasant Elementary School, pupils and administration are writing the final chapter in the history of that 16-year-old school which is scheduled to close at the end of the current school year. Some of the historic artifacts that belong to the school which will be donated to the Romulus Historic Society are shown off by third grade students Trisha Varga and Chris Dickerson, while Virginia Cameron, who has been the school secretary for the past decade and principal Harold Cannon display plaques. The school was one of two — the other being Beverly Elementary — that the Board of Education voted to close because of severe financial problems in the school district.

Area students receive university honors

Among the more than 190 Kalamazoo College students who currently are participating in a wide variety of off-campus Career Development Internships is a Belleville resident.

The resident, Ronald Sayre, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sayre, of 7585 Morton-Taylor, is with the National Institutes of Health, Normal Patient Volunteer Program in Bethesda, Maryland.

The students, most of whom are sophomores, are taking advantage of the college's extensive program of jobs and service opportunities in the fields of science and medicine, law and government, business and administration, social work and education, and the fine and performing arts.

In the meantime, Lori Slavick, daughter of Earl and Georgia Slavick of 50860 Bog Road, Belleville, was honored by Pi Sigma Alpha for providing tutoring services in political science at Eastern Michigan University. She's an EMU graduate student.

Ms. Slavick also is one of 17 new members of the honor society who was inducted into the Pi Sigma Alpha in special ceremonies on the MU campus.

Federal judge John Feikens was the featured speaker at the induction ceremonies.

In addition to inducting the 17 new students, the organization cited four EMU students with special awards. Jay S. Finch, a senior from Canton and president of BMU's Public Administration Association, received the Public Administration Club Service Award; David Egly, a senior from Plymouth, was honored as Intern of the Year; William D. Miller, a Ypsilanti senior, received the Sigma Iota Lambda (Law Society), Achievement Award; and Karen Willard, a senior from Fairhaven, received the Outstanding Public Law and Government Student of the Year Award.

Miller and Willard also were sponsored by Pi Sigma Alpha into membership of the American Political Science Association.

The Spinners, a nationally famous concert and recording group will appear at, "An Evening with Big Brothers/Big Sisters" at the Inkster Recreation Complex, 2025 Middlebelt, in Inkster on Friday May 21, 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. The Spinners, from left — Heary Farmbrough, Billy Henderson, John Edwards, Pervis Johnson and Bobbie Smith recently announced their affiliation with Big Brothers -Big Sisters as national spokesmen for the organization that helps children from one-parent families through volunteer adult Big Brothers and Big Sisters. They are not new to community service work having sponsored college education for several economically disadvantaged persons. Also appearing for the "Evening ..." will be Ben Frasier, WDIV-TV Anchorman, who will accept an award on behalf of WDIV-TV news for their continuing series, "Tuesday's Child." The series features a boy who has been waiting for a Big Brother a year or more. The public is invited. There is no admission.

Suburbs seek review of water rates

An appeal has been filed with the Michigan State Court of Appeals seeking a review of the lower court decision which rejected a request by 77 Wayne County suburban communities to lower water rates charged by the Detroit Metro Water Department.

In May 1976, the Detroit City Council raised water rates by 39%, effective through January 1, 1981.

The Suburban Association of Detroit, consisting of 77 suburban community users, sued the City of Detroit on the grounds that the increase exceeded actual costs of furnishing the water.

The Contract between the Detroit Water Deptment and the suburbs, according to Livonia Mayor Edward H. McNamara, who has spearheaded the protest movement, states that water rates shall "always be reasonable in relation to the costs incurred by the Board of Commissions for the supply of water."

The suit claims that Detroit has overcharged the suburbs by at least 3% per year and seeks a refund of more than $7 million for each of the contract years. In addition, the suit asks the court to return interest earned by Detroit on the water bills which amounts to more than $3 million per year.

"We sympathize with the economic plight of the City of Detroit," said Mayor McNamara, "but we

Township officials say state tax hike saved vital programs

The Michigan Municipal League this week praised the twenty-two Senators and fifty-six Representatives who showed political courage by voting for the emergency six-month surcharge on the state income tax.

"The six-month, emergency one percent surcharge was needed to avoid total chaos this year," stated William G. Davis, Associate Director of the Municipal League, a statewide organization of Michigan cities and villages.

The state's credit rating was seriously jeopardized last week when Moody's Investor Service, a New York bond rating agency, downgraded Michigan's bond and note ratings to the lowest ratings of any state in the nation.

The state appealed the board ratings and state officials had hoped that the rating agency would reconsider its decision after the Legislature finally passed the emergency income tax increase.

"Unfortunately," Davis said, "lowered ratings were confirmed although apparently not as low as previously expected."

"The lowered state credit ratings will make it more difficult and expensive for Michigan local governments to finance needed public projects through the sale of bonds in the national money market," he said.

The lowered credit ratings by

Moody's were attributable mostly to Michigan's continuing high unemployment and weakness in its economy caused by the national recession and higher interest rates, matters over which the State Legislature and the Governor have no control, according to Davis.

"Had the six-month emergency income tax increase not been passed," Davis said, "Governor Milliken was prepared to chop $326 million from the state budget, including a $58 million cut in revenue sharing funds for local governments this summer in order to balance the state's budget."

"Had this occurred," he said, "many local units would have had to increase local property taxes or cut local services severely."

Part of the last-minute compromise which brought about final passage of the emergency income tax increase was an agreement by the Governor to cut another $50 million from the state budget on top of the $576 million cut last October.

"It is likely there may still be some cut in state revenue sharing for cities, villages, townships, and counties in August, but the cut will be much less, probably around $5 million," Davis said.

The scale was tipped in favor of the emergency income tax increase when the state's credit rating was lowered and the Governor outlined the massive cuts in school aid, college and university funds, and revenue sharing for local governments that would have been made.

"These two drastic actions convinced many legislators that a real crisis existed," Davis stated.

"It is unfortunate that action by the Legislature did not come sooner since quick action earlier this year might have avoided the downgrading of the state's credit rating," Davis said.

"However," he continued, "the courageous decision by those 78 Legislators who voted for the temporary revenue increase forestalled massive cuts in state funds for local units that would have had a disastrous effect on local governments and school districts throughout the state."

The Michigan Municipal League, founded in 1899, is a statewide organization of cities and villages in Michigan. It is governed by a Board of Trustees comprised of city and village officials from throughout the state. The League provides numerous educational, research and other services to its city and village members, including representing their interest in the State Legislature.

The following were the final legislative votes on approval of the income tax increase:

County is seeking contract concessions from labor unions

Contemplating a $16.7 million deficit, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has ordered the County Labor Relations Board to begin negotiating for employee concessions, and is considering the elimination of about 745 jobs along with closing of the D.J. Healy Child Center if negotiations fail.

The chairman of the Labor Board, Commissioner Jackie L. Currie, said the Labor Board will begin negotiations immediately and is prepared for 24-hour sessions if necessary up to May 24 when the Labor Board is scheduled to report results of the talks to the Board of Commissioners.

Failing some agreement, the job eliminations would be effective June 14, as would closing of the child center for one year. The D.J. Healy Center is a home for abused and neglected children, who would be placed in foster homes if the facility is closed.

Also, the commissioners instructed the Labor Board and the County Civil Service Commission to begin implementing lay-off procedures so that any employees affected will receive notices by May 28, four days after the negotiations deadline.

Because of complicated lay-off and "bumping" procedures according to seniority and job classification rights, it is expected that about 145 employees would be recalled within two weeks, leaving a net total of about 600 vacated jobs.

Although Samuel A. Turner, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners said any concessions equaling the deficit amount would be acceptable, the Labor Board starts with part of a plan proposed by the County Fiscal Advisor, the County Board of Auditors and Corporation Counsel, which was also recommended by the commissioners' Fiscal Crisis Committee.

The plan asks from each employee salary and cost-of-living (COLA) concessions amounting to $2,550 in the remainder of this fiscal year ending Nov. 30, and $1,070 next fiscal year.

Specifically, the concessions would be a waiver of COLA due for the last two quarters this fiscal year, and the first quarter payment due next year, with unpaid days off required for employees whose COLA waiver is insufficient to meet the necessary dollar concessions. The amount of concessions from each employee was determined by dividing the deficit by the number of employees on the payroll.

Exempt in the plan are Circuit and Recorder's Court judges, County Clerk employees with court functions, County Library employees and members of other Boards and Commissions paid on a per diem basis.

Broadway bound?

Versatile Romulus youth dances his way to Las Vegas stage

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

His name — John Fitzgerald Kennedy — is eye catching. So is his act. Although only 17-years-old, this Romulus High student already has performed in Las Vegas and won several amateur talent shows. His diversified talents in dancing, magic and mime have entertained patients at Veteran's Hospital during the Christmas season and helped raise funds for the Association for Retarded Citizens. What appears to be the start of a promising career came about thanks to John Travolta. "I saw 'Saturday Night Fever' and wanted to do the type of dancing Travolta did," Kennedy declared, the picture of an impressionable 13-year-old boy still on his mind. "I got involved in disco dancing at the time and entered the school's talent show."

He won that talent contest and repeated the feat as a sophomore. Last month Kennedy claimed the first-place prize of $100 and a three-foot trophy for the third consecutive year.

His five-minute performance began with Kennedy impersonating a mannequin, complete with plastic mask and flashing red lights. Next came the handkerchief turning into a cane and a bouquet pulled from a glove, tricks the performer learned by visiting magic shops.

The judges and the audience at Romulus High School were impressed. Again.

"I love being in front of a crowd," Kennedy admitted. "It excites me. I get excited more than nervous... I like making people happy."

Kennedy quickly overcame any stage fright two years ago when he showcased his routine during an amateur show at the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas, a trip he earned by winning a local Gong Show over some 480 performers.

Last year he captured another trip to the casino and incorporated more magic to his dancing routine. How did the teenager react to his taste of the big time?

"I was more nervous than he was," laughed his mother, Shirley, who helps to design his costumes. "I tried to tape the audience reaction to his act and messed up the recorder. Another time I tried to get his picture and cut off his head."

The youngest of seven children, Kennedy hopes to someday be a

"I like the way they dance."

Kennedy, who this year became involved with the school's drama productions, has been approached by several athletic coaches impressed with his gracefulness. To date the high school junior has refused to subject his 5-foot-9, 145-pound body to possible injury on the gridiron or the baseball diamond.

'I love being in front of a crowd. It excites me. I get excited more than nervous...I like making people happy.'

—John Fitzgerald Kennedy

Broadway dancer, a talent he perfects in front of a basement mirror. Other interests include modeling, art (he's designed his own business card) and singing with the school choir.

"I enjoy watching the movies of Gene Kelly and Fred Astaire," said Kennedy, who works as an usher at the Quo Vadis Theater in Westland.

Dancing remains his first ambition.

"I've watched 'Dance Fever' and found it very interesting," responded Kennedy to a question regarding the popular television show. "I believe I could compete on that type of level. But I'd have to find a partner."

This Cheap Trick is priceless

CHEAP TRICK
"One On One"
(Epic)

Once upon a time, there was no doubt in my mind that Cheap Trick was the world's greatest rock 'n' roll band, and most people that used to frequent the band's Ann Arbor shows at the Second Chance will agree with that. But then something happened to them.

Robin Zander became the onstage spokesperson, a role he always seemed uneasy with. Rick Nielsen quieted down and discarded his casual nuttiness for custom-made nuttiness. The spark was gone. Such is the cost of mass adulation.

I'm happy to say though, that with "One On One," Cheap Trick has once again found their niche. This is the album that should've come after "Heaven Tonight," and except for a couple of songs, "Dream Police" and "All Shook Up" never should have happened.

"If You Want My Love" will probably be the album's first single, as its mix of acoustic and electric guitars seem ripe for airplay. I think it's the band's finest ballad yet, and Roy Thomas Baker's production (surprisingly) isn't oversaturating like George Martin's was last time around.

All eleven songs included are memorable, but of course there are the standouts: "She's Tight," a rollicking throwback to the 50's that was premiered last fall when the band played at the Second Chance under the alias of The Randymen.

"I Want Be Man" is Nielsen's obligatory "weird" number, a la "Who D' King" off of "All Shook Up," only this time it works to perfection. The title cut sounds like heartthrob Robin's ode to fidelity and to his new wife. Probably both.

For my money the record's hottest song (and should-be single) is "Time Is Runnin'," and so what if it's a rip-off of Peter Frampton's "I Believe When I Fall In Love"? Actually it's not, but it sure reminds me of it in structure. But added hooks make the difference, and "Time Is Runnin'" is the catchiest song I've heard all year.

And so marks the return of Cheap Trick to the top of the rockpile, which is where they rightfully belong. After all, we've got to keep Bun E. in cigarettes, don't we?

Westland performer sees double duty in play

"The Skin of Our Teeth" has a double meaning for Westland resident Kathy Loftus.

A second semester student at Henry Ford Community College, she was selected as assistant director for the spring drama production of Thornton Wilder's wacky comedy. If that wasn't enough to keep her busy, she also appears onstage in a minor role.

"The two jobs got to be quite a load, but after awhile, you get used to it," Ms. Loftus explained. "I really enjoyed working on it and it's a great play," she added.

The production will continue this weekend at the Adray Auditorium of the Mackenzie Fine Arts Center. The story revolves around the trials and tribulations of the George Antrobus family of Excelsior, New Jersey. The family members, who have been around since the creation of mankind, have managed to survive the Ice Age, pestilence, fire, flood, famine and war by "the skin of their teeth." The play won the Pulitzer prize for the 1942-43 theatre season.

Others appearing in the cast with Ms. Loftus, a 1981 graduate of John Glenn High School, include Len Polidori, a veteran of the student stage with many local community theatre productions. He stars as George Antrobus, the wildly eccentric leader of the clan.

Lois St. John portrays Sabina, the sexy, scheming maid to the Antrobus family. St. John starred in HFCC's production of "Summer and Smoke" last fall. Roberta Pullam is cast as Mrs. Antrobus, who has been George's devoted spouse for 5,000 years.

Terri Janus and Daniel King portray Gladys and Henry, the two average, all-American children of the Antrobuses. Kevin McGoorty plays Mr. Fitzpatrick, the stage manager, who sets the mood for each scene of the comedy.

Ms. Loftus explained that her family had seen the show last weekend and enjoyed it tremendously. While she appeared in high school and community productions, this is her first venture in college level production. "It was very interesting," she said, "I enjoyed it so much and it's worth the effort."

Numerous candidates auditioned for roles in the production which features a very large cast, and Ms. Loftus noted she was gratified to be selected for her important function, as assistant director working with Ronald Worsley, drama instructor, who is the director of the comedy.

She is the daughter of Sally Loftus of Winona Street in Westland.

Tickets for the production are $3 for general admission and $2 for students and senior citizens and can be purchased at the HFCC Student Convenience Center or at the door. Information is available by phoning 271-2750, ext. 478.

A good knife is rated vital fisherman's tool

By BOB BREWSTER
Special to Playtime

If you did away with all the gadgets in fishing, leaving only the barest essentials necessary for catching fish, you'd end up with a hook, line, and knife.

It's tough to beat the usefulness of a good knife as a fisherman's tool. Used to cut line, prepare bait and rough-dress fish, among other things, a knife is an important item in every angler's tackle box. The problem is that too often we have the wrong kind of knife. Knives come in hundreds of styles. Choosing from among them for one that fits a fisherman's needs is difficult unless you know what features are desirable.

According to fishing experts there is no such thing as the perfect fisherman's knife. But you can reach a reasonable compromise. Here are their suggestions for features to seek.

Folding knife or sheath knife? Each has advantages, but wet, slick

New Orleans Fried Chicken offers a choice

Unique hot and spicy recipe helps set records

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

That choice, along with the quality of the chicken, is enabling this new carryout business in Wayne to set sales' records nearly everyday. "Each day this week has been a personal record for that day in volume of business," admitted

Steve West, a co-manager with Bob Barron, whose father (Robert Barron Sr.) is the store owner. "Our hot and spicy recipe is unique, it's put right into the batter and then cooked.

"This is not some sauce you add on to the chicken once it's cooked," he added. "If you like hot and spicy food, you'll enjoy our hot and spicy chicken.

"Mr. Barron was impressed with a hot recipe he tried while travelling through the South," West said, explaining the origin of the establishment's New Orleans reference. "We are trying for the same type of appeal."

A wide variety of chicken snacks, dinners, family buckets and party barrels are featured as well as a number of fish, shrimp, liver and gizzard offerings.

Among the daily specials are two pieces of chicken, french fries and biscuit for $1.69; three pieces, fries and biscuit ($2.19) and the Family Day Special, available each Wednesday, that includes three pieces of chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, cole slaw and two biscuits for $1.99 (regularly $2.49). There is no extra charge for the hot and spicy variety.

For families interested in just chicken, a thrift box of eight pieces runs $5.49; economy box, 12 pieces, $7.29; bucket, 15 pieces, $9.05, and barrel, 20 pieces, $11.79. To complete the meal New Orleans Fried Chicken provides a diversified menu "on the side" with such offerings as corn on the cob, mashed potatoes, cornbread dressing, mushrooms, strawberry shortcake, puddings and sweet potato pie (75 cents).

"Our chickens are cut into eight pieces instead of nine," revealed West, "to give our customers approximately 10 percent more chicken for their money."

Located at 35858 Michigan Ave. (west of Wayne Road), New Orleans Fried Chicken offers an assortment of beers, wines and soft drinks in its party store.

All popular brands of beer are priced at $2.79 a six pack (American brand) and for those who make a food purchase, a six pack of Miller's is featured at $1.99, or $7.89 for a case.

"We don't count too much on the party store for profit," West admitted. "That's why you'll find popular brands here at supermarket prices."

Business hours are 10:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and from 10:30 a.m. until 12:30 a.m. Friday and Saturday. A drive-thru window is available for any item in the kitchen or the store, including beverages, West noted.

Complete catering also is offered for any occasion with an extensive menu that includes roast beef and lasagna. Those interested can call 434-1546 for further information.

In addition to its Wayne store, which opened last December, New Orleans Fried Chicken has an Ann Arbor location.

fingers can hold a sheath knife best. Opening a folding knife with soft fingernails can cause them to break, and it's impossible to do if you're holding a fish with one hand to keep it from flopping around.

Hunting knives, those with thick blades, guards and blood drains, are virtually useless in a fishing boat. They are difficult to use, impossible to wear on a belt while seated, and have features a fisherman doesn't need.

The best overall style of fishing knife is one with a short (4 to 4-inch) blade made of stainless steel. Blade shape should be narrow, slim, yet rigid.

This omits, properly, thin-bladed filleting knives as general fishing tools; they're suitable only for one purpose.

Ken Massey and Company provides the entertainment Thursday thru Sunday at Mr. Mike's, 35323 Ford Road in Westland. Massey (left) and Chris Elder flank George the Monkey, a featured performer in the variety act. Contemporary music and comedy are incorporated into each performance.

'Chapter Two' returns

Neil Simon's 'Chapter Two' will be performed this Friday and Saturday evenings by the Comedy Players Dinner Theatre in Allen Park. Jan Salisbury (left) and Bill Moore portray Jennie and George in the production, which will conclude a long run this weekend. Del Howison and Judi Charters are also featured. The theatre is located at Bambi's Welcome Mat, 5835 Allen Road near Southfield. Reservations are required (call 661-1383). Dinner is served at 7:30 p.m.

Capt. Friar graduates from U.S. Air Force

Capt. James A. Friar Jr., son of James A. and Beverly G. Friar of 49980 W. Huron River Drive, Belleville, has graduated from U.S. Air Force fighter lead-in training at Holloman Air Force Base, N.M.

During the advanced eight-week course, the pilot learned fighter tactics for combat situations.

Friar will now serve with the 355th Tactical Fighter Wing at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, Ariz.

He is a 1977 graduate of Michigan Technological University at Houghton.

His wife, Karen, is the daughter of Stephen and Helen Wigoda of 18211 Santa Ann, Lathrup.

Martin will now serve at Selfridge Air National Guard Base, Mich., with the 127th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron.

He is a 1972 graduate of the University of Michigan, Dearborn.

Air Force Staff Sgt. George S. Morris, son of Frank A. Morris of 8565 Burton, Romulus, has participated in exercise Team Spirit, a joint and combined U.S. and Republic of Korea military exercise to train commanders, staffs and forces in the execution of joint and combined ground, air and sea operations.

U.S. Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine forces joined with their Republic of Korea counterparts for these maneuvers.

Morris is a security supervisor at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, Ariz., with the 836th Security Police Squadron.

His wife, Cynthia, is the daughter of Bobby G. Maxwell of 1742 Merchant, Abilene, Texas.

He is a 1975 graduate of Abilene High School.

Spec. 4 David C. Glass, son of Henry L. and Willie M. Osborne of 11058 Whitehorn, Romulus, has arrived for duty in Frankfurt, West German.

Glass, a light wheeled vehicle and power generation mechanic with the 3rd Armored Division, was previously assigned at Fort Carson, Colo.

He is a 1980 graduate of Romulus Senior High School.

Tax relief settlement asked

Parke Davis' $950,000 settlement with Detroit for past tax abatements has the Wayne County Board of Commissioners wondering whether the city will pass on some $180,000 as its share of lost revenue.

A resolution by Commissioner Kay Beard asking the City of Detroit to reimburse the county's three-year portion of the abatement won the unanimous approval of county board members Thursday.

Whenever communities within the county grant tax relief to businesses," Ms. Beard said, "a portion of that is automatically taken from the county's share of tax revenue. When Detroit demanded a settlement of past tax relief before Parke Davis would be allowed to move from the city, the city was, in effect, being repaid a portion of the county's taxes.

"My resolution," the commissioner continued, "simply asks that Detroit pay the county for abated taxes amounting to $60,000 per year for the past three years. The county cannot continue to accept revenue losses such as this if it ever hopes to achieve a balanced budget," she said.

Cancellation of proposed Franchise Agreement with Comcast Cablevision

WHEREAS: the City Council has approved Comcast Cablevision as a Cable Communication Franchisee for the City, and

WHEREAS: the City Council further directed the Cable Committee and the Mayor to negotiate with Comcast to prepare a suitable Franchise Agreement, and

WHEREAS: said Committee did meet with representatives from Comcast and prepared such a document, and

WHEREAS: the document so prepared and agreed upon was presented and approved by the Romulus City Council on March 9, 1982, and the prospective Franchisee has failed and or refused to execute the proposed document.

NOW, THEREFORE, the City of Romulus does hereby rescind and cancel the proposed Franchise Agreement that was heretofore approved, but never executed by the prospective Franchise. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Banks, Baumann, Bergeron, Block, Lambert, Lewkowicz and Raspberry. Nays - none. Motion carried.

5A. Motion by Lambert, supported by Bergeron, to amend Resolution 82-160 and add that a registered letter be mailed to Comcast stating that the Franchise Agreement must be signed by 5:00 p.m. May 11, 1982.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Banks, Baumann, Bergeron, Block, Lambert, Lewkowicz and Raspberry. Nays - none. Motion carried.

82-160 (Amended)*

WHEREAS: the City Council has approved Comcast Cablevision as a Cable Communication Franchisee for the City, and

WHEREAS: the City Council further directed the Cable Committee and the Mayor to negotiate with Comcast to prepare a suitable Franchise Agreement, and

WHEREAS: said Committee did meet with representatives from Comcast and prepared such a document, and

WHEREAS: the document so prepared and agreed upon was presented and approved by the Romulus City Council on March 9, 1982, and the prospective Franchisee has failed and/or refused to execute the proposed document, and

*WHEREAS: the City of Romulus will send a registered letter to Comcast stating that the Franchise Agreement must be signed by 5:00 p.m. by May 11, 1982.

NOW THEREFORE, the City of Romulus does hereby rescind and cancel the proposed Franchise Agreement that was heretofore approved, but never executed by the prospective Franchisee.

82-161

5A. Motion by Raspberry, supported by Block, to concur with the Mayor's request to also adopt a second Resolution in regards to the Cable TV Franchise Agreement.

82-161

CONTACT PREVIOUS BIDDERS IN REGARD TO

CABLE FRANCHISE AGREEMENT

WHEREAS: the City of Romulus has approved a Cable Communications Franchise Ordinance and designated a Franchisee, and

WHEREAS: the previously designated Franchisee has failed and/or refused to comply with the terms of its original bid proposal, and

WHEREAS: the City has previously publicly requested bids from all interested concerns, at considerable expense, and

WHEREAS: the request for proposals had resulted in two additional bids being submitted, along with a non-refundable $3,000.00 fee, and

WHEREAS: a paid Cable Communications expert who was retained to recommend an award, had advised that wither of the two other bidders are capable of constructing and maintaining a system that will meet the City's requirements and be of acceptable quality.

NOW, THEREFORE, the City of Romulus Council hereby directs the Mayor (Chairman-Negotiating T.V. Committee) to contact the two previous bidders to inquire as to their interest in the franchise agreement at this time.

Conference on Horse Industry set for June 2-3

Area residents who are interested in plans to expand the total Michigan horse industry can state their opinions and recommendations at the Governor's Conference on the Horse Industry, June 2-3, in Lansing, reports Don Juchartz, Extension Agricultural Agent for Wayne County and Southeast Michigan. The conference is being conducted to determine the industry's potential for expansion and diversification to help improve the state's economy. "We will examine ways to improve all the aspects of the industry—research, education, regulation and economic development—and make recommendations, set goals and propose methods to accomplish these goals," says Paul Kindinger, conference coordinator. Special committees will report their recommendations for the industry to the conference. These recommendations and comments provided by the conference participants will be included in a final report submitted to the governor. Proposals include establishing a new race track in the western lower peninsula, eliminating federal and state withholding taxes on pari-mutuel winnings, pari-mutuel wagering at county fairs, eliminating sales tax on feed and supplies for horses, and improving education programs in equine care. "The horse industry is particularly important to the tri-county area of Wayne, Washtenaw and Oakland counties," said Juchartz, "as this represents in excess of thirty (30) million dollars yearly being expended by the industry." The conference, to be held at Long's Convention Center, begins at 1 p.m. June 2 with the governor's address. Anyone interested in commenting on the committee proposals or making suggestions to the committees may do so from 3:15 to 5:45 p.m. Further information can be obtained by calling or writing the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, P.O. Box 550, Wayne, Michigan, 48184, telephone 313/721-6550.

82-139

5E. Motion by Baumann, supported by Block, to concur with the Mayor's recommendation to introduce an amendment to the criminal code, Chapter X, Article I reads as follows:

Section 1001-300(K) Disorderly Conduct

(K) No person shall sell, offer for sale, keep, possess use or loan a cane sword, umbrella sword, switchblade, or self-opening knife, or be in possession of a knife with a blade more than three (3) inches in length on any of the streets, or other public places in the City, or on any private property frequented, or visited by the public for purposes of education, recreation, amusement, entertainment, sport, or shopping; provided, that the prohibition of this section shall not apply to any one-armed person in possession of a switchblade, or self-opening knife in connection with his living requirements.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes—Banks, Block, Baumann, Bergeron, Lambert, Lewkowicz, Raspberry. Nays—None. Motion carried.

82-140

5F. Motion by Baumann, supported by Lewkowicz, to concur with the Mayor's recommendation and adopt the following Buy American resolution.

WHEREAS: Several total industries in soft goods, electronics and steel have almost disappeared from this country; and

WHEREAS: The major underlying cause of the destruction of these industries is the unfair foreign competition, because many other governments create full employment for their citizens; and

WHEREAS: The basic steel, steel specialty and the steel wire industries of this country are the latest, but by no means the last, to feel the deep bite of unfair foreign competition; and

WHEREAS: Foreign internal industry practices fostered by government action are especially detrimental to the steel industry, electronic and soft good industries; and

WHEREAS: As an example, foreign steel-producing countries consume only some thirty percent domestically, "dumping" the surplus on U.S. Markets at below cost, their government policies subsidizing the cost differences; and

WHEREAS: The provisions of the 1974 Trade Act which allows for the negotiation of an Orderly Marketing Agreement are not adequate to eliminate the threat to the steel and basic home industries both in the State of Michigan and the U.S.; and

WHEREAS: Industry in Michigan would be capable of providing needed supplies except for the sales competition of cheaper foreign import steel and iron, electronic and soft goods;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the City of Romulus establish a policy whereby we attempt to purchase American made products only.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes—Banks, Block, Baumann, Bergeron, Lambert, Lewkowicz, Raspberry. Nays—None. Motion carried.

82-141

5G. Motion by Bergeron, supported by Lambert, to concur with the request of Wayne and Lauri Klukowski of Polk Dot Party Store, that they be granted exclusive rights to concessions for the sale of pop, candy, chips, etc., at Elmer Johnson Park. Further that any licensee applying for license to operate from Elmer Johnson park be notified of "exclusive rights" grant to Polka Dot Party Store.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes—Banks, Block, Baumann, Bergeron, Lambert, Lewkowicz, Raspberry. Nays—None. Motion carried.

82-142

5H. Motion by Lewkowicz, supported by Bergeron, to adopt a resolution objecting to the State policy of delaying payments to the City.

WHEREAS: The Constitution of the State of Michigan provides that certain taxes collected by the State of Michigan are to be returned to the Townships, Cities and Villages as provided by law; and

WHEREAS: The State of Michigan has notified the Townships, Cities and Villages that certain funds due to be paid by the State will not be paid in a timely fashion, but instead will be delayed; and

WHEREAS: The political subdivision of the State of Michigan are, in many respects, dependent upon receiving their funds from the State of Michigan by the due date thereof in order to maintain their financial commitments and fiscal integrity.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus, Michigan, does hereby strongly OBJECT to the delay in the receipt of constitutionally mandated Revenue Sharing Funds and hereby directs that a copy of this Resolution be sent to the Governor, Senator Hertel, Senator Faust, Representatives Mahalak and Owen and Congressman William Ford.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes—Banks, Block, Baumann, Bergeron, Lambert, Lewkowicz, Raspberry. Nays—None. Motion carried.

82-143

Motion by Baumann, supported by Block, that the Clerk's Office be directed to draft a resolution to deduct road commission payments from the money used on County Roads.

Resolution 82-151

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus has received a communication from the Wayne County Road Commission; and

WHEREAS: The Communication was in reference to the inability to perform more than one application of chloride as a dust palliative; and

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus has within its boundary lines approximately three and one half (3 1/2) miles of County maintained gravel roads; and

WHEREAS: Act Number 51, Public Acts of 1951 as amended, provides monies to the Wayne County Road Commission for the sole purpose of maintenance of the roads under their jurisdiction; and

WHEREAS: The maintenance of said roads are to include the application of a dust palliative in order to protect the health, safety and welfare of the citizens of the City of Romulus,

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: In the event that the City of Romulus is to apply a dust palliative to the approximately three and one half (3 1/2) miles of Wayne County Road Commission jurisdictional roads, the City of Romulus demands to be compensated.

FINALLY BE IT RESOLVED: That the Romulus Department of Public Works bill the Wayne County Road Commission for the distribution of a dust palliative and a copy of said invoice be sent to the Michigan Department of Transportation and a true copy of this resolution be sent to the Legislative Representatives of the City of Romulus in the Michigan Legislature.

Doctor on Call

It's Springtime....allergy time

Editor's Note: Dr. Ernest Sorini is chief of Emergency Room Services at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne. He did his internship and residency at the University of Utah Medical Center and has been in emergency medicine for five years. If you have questions for Dr. Sorini contact him care of Associated Newspapers Inc., P.O. Box 578, Wayne, Michigan 48184).

By DR. ERNEST SORINI

It's spring — wonderful spring. In springtime, the young emergency physician's heart turns to thoughts of heatstroke, bee stings, ragweed, allergies, near-drownings, and other catastrophes that are coincident with the onset of the vernal heatwave.

Just be glad you don't live in Arizona, because I would have had to add Gila monsters, scorpions, and other creepy-crawlers who like to live in a warm environment all year round.

I once had a man tell me that you don't have to worry about bee stings because they don't hurt that much. And in fact, if you're not the one who is the recipient of the bee sting, they don't hurt at all. Bee stings can be as minor as a painful annoyance or as major as a life-threatening allergic reaction, depending upon the reaction of the patient who is stung.

It is known that ounce for ounce, the venom of a bee is as poisonous as the venom of a cobra or a rattlesnake. That's the bad news. The good news is that the bumblebee, the honey bee, and other "hymenoptera," as they are called, produce only miniscule amounts of venom.

In the usual instance of a hymenoptera sting the only problem has to do with the local inflammation of the tissues surrounding the sting. At times, these stings do become infected, and when this occurs, the infection is usually treated quite simply with the use of warm compresses and in some cases antibiotics.

However, in those patients who have been sensitized by previous exposure either to bee stings or to other similar proteins, the sting of a bee can be a life-threatening situation characterized by hives, wheezing, low blood pressure, shock and even death.

Not to worry. There are many medical researchers who have recently been able to put together a concoction made of various parts of bumblebee bodies and venom (I know this is beginning to sound a lot like witchcraft, but believe me its not).

Physicians are able to inject patients known to be sensitized to bee venom with very, very small amounts of this extract. The object is to inject the patient with increasingly large amounts of extract so that the body's own defenses, so called antibodies, will be able to attack the venom of a stinging insect when the sting occurs.

If you have had hives or shortness of breath or low blood pressure after having been stung by a bee in the past, and if you have not been desensitized in a manner which I pointed out above, you should contact your doctor or an allergist as soon as possible, so that she may begin your de-sensitization and so that you can enjoy the vernal and summer outdoors without having to worry where your next breath is coming from.

This short expose on bee stings is the first of several articles which I will write on the hazards of spring and summer, as they relate to medicine. As always, I invite your comments and questions on medical issues.

Legal Aid

What should I do?

In times like these when working people are laid off and forced to enter the unemployment lines for limited benefits, it gets tough to meet one's bills.

To file bankruptcy or not to file bankruptcy then becomes the question.

What should you do?

First of all bankruptcy is not for everybody. You should consult with an attorney who will help you decide what is best.

To make the decision easier list all your assets, then all your debts. Compare them. What is your earning capacity? Is it likely to increase in the near future?

Next consider the alternatives to bankruptcy. Discuss these fully with an attorney before you decide. Some of the alternatives are:

1 — Filing a repayment plan with the bankruptcy court known as Chapter 13.

2 — Refinancing major debts.

3 — Returning items bought on credit.

4 — Seeking of few months reprieve from creditors.

5 — Developing an affordable repayment plan with creditors.

Destroy all credit cards, do not dig yourself deeper into the hole. These are a few of the items you should consider.

Remember, work on the alternatives early. It is easier to apply a band aid than to remove the entire finger.

CETA to train teens

CETA officials today announced that they are seeking approximately 12 youths who reside in Romulus for their job training and placement program.

"We're seeking disadvantaged and handicapped, including those who have learning disabilities, for this program," said Gary Greenwell, of the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service. "The youths have to be in the 16 to 19 age group and also must be residents of Romulus.

CETA, a federally-funded program known as the Comprehensive Employment Training Act, is locally administered by the Wayne County Training Employment Administration.

Residents who feel they qualify for the program or wish further information should contact either Greenwell (722-6550, extension 233) or Andrew Berman, at the same number.

Student dies of accident injuries

Dawn Marie Ide, a 16-year old student at John Glenn High School, died Sunday morning of injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

Miss Ide was injured when a car driven by Mary Celeskey, 22, of Dearborn crossed the center line on Ford Road near Lilley Road in Canton and sideswiped the automobile of an elderly couple and then careened into the car in which the victim was a passenger. Miss Ide's father, William, was driving the family automobile and she was a passenger in the rear seat. Other injuries at the scene were minor, according to Canton Police reports.

Miss Ide was transported to Oakwood Hospital by Canton fire fighters where she died of her injuries at 1:16 Sunday afternoon.

She is survived by her father, a teacher at John Glenn High School, her mother, Dorothy; brothers, Victor and David, and a sister, Kimberly. Also surviving are her grandmothers, Florence Ide and Mary Buda.

Celeskey was charged with manslaughter in the incident and according to Canton police reports may have been intoxicated at the time of the collision. She was arraigned yesterday and posted $1,000 bond. A preliminary examination is set for May 20. The court entered a plea of not guilty for her in the incident.

Services for Miss Ide were held at 10:30 this morning from the L. J. Griffith Funeral Home and interment was at St. Hedwig Mausoleum in Dearborn Heights.

Taste Smokers Convinced.

Former higher tar smokers report MERIT “Best-tasting low tar I’ve tried.”

Can a low tar cigarette provide the taste incentive to switch smokers from higher tar brands?

Research consistently proves that MERIT can.

MERIT Taste Sparks Switch.

Nationwide survey reveals over 90% of MERIT smokers who switched from higher tar are glad they did. In fact, 94% don't even miss their former brands.

Further Evidence: 9 out of 10 former higher tar smokers report MERIT an easy switch, that they didn't give up taste in switching, and that MERIT is the best-tasting low tar they've ever tried.

MERIT Clear Choice.

In addition, extensive unmarked-pack tests confirm that MERIT delivers a winning combination of taste and low tar when compared against higher tar leaders.

Confirmed: The overwhelming majority reported MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading higher tar brands.

Confirmed: When tar levels were revealed, 2 out of 3 chose the MERIT combination of low tar and good taste.

Year after year, in study after study, MERIT remains unbeaten. The proven taste alternative to higher tar smoking—is MERIT.

Belleville captures Hidenfelter Relays

Area preps to compete in regionals on Saturday

Displaying power in the field and coming up with enough points in the running events, Belleville captured the 1982 Harry Hidenfelter Memorial Relays held on Friday at Belleville High School.

Coach Dave Medley's trackmen piled up 86 points to lead a field of eight area teams including the second-place finishing Wayne Memorial. The Zebras edged out Livonia Churchill by three points, 77-74, to nail down the runner-up spot.

"It is indeed gratifying to win these relays for a couple of reasons," said Medley. "First the relays are in honor of our former athletic director and coach and they also provide us with an excellent trial to test our kids with area athletes."

Belleville picked up two of five gold medals in the field events, winning the shot put on the combined performances of versatile Mel Richendollar, Guy Wood and Rod LaFranchise who had a total of 134 feet, 8 1/2 inches. Putting pressure on the Belleville trio was Churchill which was a shade behind with 134 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

The champs also received a first place from their 880-yard relay team of Brian Martin, Leonard Armstrong, Keith Mison and Keith Gates who were clocked in 1:32.5.

Wyane Memorial's Ken Kiesznowski managed to outlast Belleville distance runner Aaron Eagle to win the prestigious 2-mile run event. Wayne also won the low hurdles shuttle and the mile relay.

Area high school track & field representatives will compete in regional competition on Saturday. Churchill and Dearborn have been designated as hosts schools for most of the area Class A schools.

Churchill has the following teams: Belleville, Detroit Chadsey, Detroit Cody, Detroit Cooley, Detroit Henry Ford, Detroit McKenzie, Detroit Mumford, Detroit Redford, Garden City East and West, Livonia Bentley, Livonia Churchill, Livonia Franklin, Livonia Stevenson, Redford Bishop Borgess, Redford Catholic Central, Redford Union, Thurston, Wayne Memorial and Westland John

Glenn. Romulus will compete at Wyandotte Roosevelt High.

Class B area schools are packed at Dexter High School and Warren-Fitzgerald. New Boston Huron vies at Dexter, while Cherry Hill, Inkster and Dearborn Heights

Robichaud run for regional titles at Warren.

In order to survive the regionals and advance to the state finals an athlete must finish among the top three places in any of the individual events or show a state qualifying time.

Cherry Hill climbs into 1st place with win over G.C. West

Off to their best start in recent years, Cherry Hill jolted previously undefeated Garden City West to climb atop of the Tri-River Conference baseball standings last week.

Coach Ken Mientkiewicz and his Spartans are sporting an 8-1 league and a 17-5 over-all record as the week began.

"I have to feel this is the best over-all hitting ball club that I have ever coached here," said Mientkiewicz, who has been the Spartan mentor for the past six years. "The hitting is good and the pitching stable, and that's why we're in the thick of the title race."

Cherry Hill had to go 13 innings, however, to pull out a nailbiting 10-9 victory over Southgate last week. Rob Pietruszka picked up the decision in relief of Tom Michno who worked the first 6 2/3 innings, then was forced to the sidelines when Southgate staged a rally.

Michno managed to fan 12 and walk seven, but he was charged with eight of the nine runs and also eight of the Saber's 13 hits. Pietruszka got one strikeout and one walk in the victory. He ignited the Spartan rally in the bottom of the 13th when he singled, advanced to third on Ron Peterson's base hit and scored when Andy Papensee stroked a base hit to left field.

Michno however saved the day when, in the eighth and two-away, he drilled an over-the-fence solo homer that tied the game at 9-all. That HR ball traveled between 350 to 400 feet, landing in the Spartan tennis courts.

LaPense checked Dearborn Heights Crestwood 3-1 on a six-hitter as he starred on the mound and at the plate where he sliced two hits in three trips. The junior right-hander notched five strikeouts, walked one and missed the shutout when the Chargers scored in the third inning. Peterson also chipped in two hits for the winners.

Cherry Hill avenged its lone league loss when the Spartans erupted for two runs in the bottom of the seventh to stun Coach Bob Dropp and Garden City West 9-8.

Michno went the distance and managed to overcome a 4-run Tiger first inning. In fact, the Spartans were down by as much as seven runs when they decided to play ball. They scored twice in the fourth, added four more in the fifth, one in the sixth then defeated Curt Minch with the two-run last inning spurt.

Minch stayed on to take the loss. The lefty got nine strikeouts, walked one and gave up 14 hits in his first league loss of the campaign.

Michno tossed a seven hitter, whiffed 11 but gave up seven walks.

Play ball!

Like everything these days, baseball costs money. And when you're fielding hundreds of kids on the diamond this summer, as the Wayne-Ford Civic League will be, there is a dire need for funds. So the Civic League is staging a door-to-door campaign selling mugs to raise money for its' baseball programs and one of the first

Local gridders picked for All-Star game

Livonia Churchill's John Bielis and Plymouth Salem's Darrell Bartkowiak will represent the area in the second annual Michigan High School Football Coaches Association's All-Star Football Game. Bielis is a 6-1, 190-pound senior back, while Bartkowiak checks in as a 6-1, 215-pound linebacker.

The game will be played between the West All-Stars and the East All-Stars at 1:30 p.m., Sat., Aug. 7 at Michigan State University.

Legion tryouts set

With the high school baseball season tossing its' last pitches, the first call for American Legion ball players may be heard in the area.

Prospective players, ages 16 through 18, are invited to tryouts for Legion ball at 11 a.m., Sun., May 23 at Garden City West High School.

"We had an excellent team last year and have seven holdovers from that ball club," said manager Bill Hodge who will be fielding one of the teams that will play in the 16th District. "We're looking for local talent to complete our lineup."

If you have any questions, Hodge may be reached by telephoning 522-6429.

WYAA seeks players for girl's team

The Westland Youth Athletic Association is seeking players for its girls' softball traveling team.

Team tryouts have been scheduled for 10 a.m., Sat., May 22 at Livonia Franklin High School Diamond. Players must be between the ages of 13 and 15 and be members of the WYAA.

"Last year we had tremendous success with our team," said manager Bill Robitaille, "and we believe that there is a lot of good talent in these parts to put together another fine team."

"If there are any girls who wish to try out for the team, they should show up prepared to practice," Robitaille added. Further information may be obtained by telephoning Robitaille at 522-5580.

Triumph

Ex-Cherry Hill student, Jim Renuk, hasn't let cerebral palsy stand in his way from competing and winning on the athletic field and in the classrooms. He shows how to triumph against what some people would consider insurmountable odds.

Handicapped? No way—Jim Renuk is seeking to find Olympic gold

By SUE BACHAND
ANP Staff Writer

Jim Renuk is the type of son to make any parent proud.

A good student and honors graduate of Cherry Hill High School and Michigan State University, he is now pursuing his master's degree at that school. His athletic trophies and accomplishments have recently merited his inclusion in the Olympic games to be held in Denmark. These feats are worthwhile indeed, but when accomplished by a man without the full use of arms and legs who is incapable of speech — they become monumental achievements.

Renuk, 28, is a victim of cerebral palsy caused by a severe birth injury which resulted in the death of his natural mother. He has been lovingly tended and cared for by his father and step-mother, Noreen, since he was 18-months-old — and the two are obviously very close. Her voice brims with pride when she helps Jim use his "talk board" to explain his desire to compete in the International Olympics for Cerebral Palsy. Jim is one of 59 athletes selected to compete in the games of the team representing the United States at this fifth International Cerebral Palsy Olympics to be held July 16-21. More than 1,000 men and women, representing 25 countries will take part in this athletic competition sponsored by the Edinburgh, Scotland based Cerebral Palsy International Sports and Recreation Association and hosted by the Danish Spastic Society.

Jim, who is spastic, utilized his talk board to explain that he had always wanted "to be a jock". His degree from Michigan State is in nutrition and his studies are now geared to nutrition and diet. He would very much, he explained, like to work with athletes and their diets in the future. He hopes to achieve his Ph.D. in nutrition and be called "Dr. Jim".

Jim's parents, explained his mother, never expected him to achieve this type of success. They were told, repeatedly, that the motor control portion of his brain was damaged due to a lack of oxygen at birth. "We never expected him to graduate from high school, and college was just something we never dreamed of for him," his mother said.

His athletic pursuits include swimming, for which he has already won two gold medals, one at competition at Eastern Michigan University and one at the national competition in Rhode Island. Those achievements qualified Jim for inclusion in the international games. He also plays wheelchair soccer and lifts weights. "I like to stay in shape," he noted.

Jim must provide his own funding, $1,200, for his participation in the games and is seeking contributions toward that goal. He has already received a donation from the daughter of the Danish ambassador to the U.S. who was impressed with his achievements. Contributions can be mailed to National Association of Sports for Cerebral Palsy, United Cerebral Palsy Association, Inc., 66 East 34th Street, New York, NY, 10016.

Eagle streak ends at 16

Salem hands Romulus girls softball team its 1st setback

There is a saying in athletics and sports that "streaks are made to be broken."

And true to that saying, Romulus enviable 16-game girls' softball winning streak came to an end on Saturday as Coach Fred Coleman's Eagles dropped a 9-0 decision to Plymouth Salem at the second annual Romulus Invitational.

The streak is incredible because, as Coach Coleman puts it: "At the beginning of the season if anyone would have told me that our girls would break even and play .500 ball I'd tell them they were dreaming."

Coleman based his prognosis on the position that "this was going to be a rebuilding year" for him and his team. "This is a young and inexperienced squad — we only have three seniors on it.

"But let me say this, this squad can hustle and has shown it can play with the best of them."

Romulus buried Taylor Truman on Monday, 27-10, for its 19th victory in 21 starts and is looking forward to the district playoffs. However, standing in the Eagles way will be the squad that beat them — Salem — which also has been outstanding this season.

Undefeated on the mound this year, pitcher Rocky Patterson tamed Truman to chalk up fourth win of the campaign. She received ample hitting support from Margaret Savage who carved out two hits in five trips to the plate; Tracey Barnett, who went two for three and Myra Zamora, who scored five times after getting aboard on two hits, two walks and an error.

In the 10-team tournament held on Saturday at Romulus, Garden City East walked away with the title as it defeated defending champ, Wayne Memorial, 13-3.

Romulus split in its four appearances as the Eagles edged New Boston Huron, 8-7, turned back Dearborn Heights Riverside, 21-5, but dropped 9-0 and 15-5 decisions to Salem and Wayne Memorial, respectively.

Romulus enters district playoffs on Fri., May 28 when it will engage Temperance Bedford in the qualifying round at 1 p.m. The survivor of the clash will advance to the district.

Bentley's all alone in first

Tigers fade from title race

Livonia Bentley took a commanding lead in the Suburban 8 Conference girls' softball title race as the Bulldogs knocked off their archrivals, Belleville, 7-2, to remain undefeated.

"They look like they have it all sewed up," said Belleville coach Peggy Curtis. "Barring a complete breakdown by them, I just can't see anyone catching them."

The loss left Belleville with a 6-3 league and a 9-8 over-all record.

Again it was a case where Belleville bats were silenced while the pitching, provided by Judy Wisniewski, was superb. Wisniewski had the Livonians in check most of the way, but a couple of defensive miscues paved the way for Bentley's triumph.

Wisniewski came back to blank Allen Park 6-0 and was zeroing in on a perfect game when a walk and fielding error ruined her bid for a niche in athletic history. She notched six strikeouts and walked one.

Belleville received a pair of hits from Virgette Staltz who batted in two runs.

At the Bedford Tournament, Belleville had its problems against Whiteford which blanked the Tigers 5-0 on Mary Schmidt's one hitter. The Whiteford hurler's dream of the no-hitter was shattered by Anne Plaza who stroked a fourth inning single.

Wisniewski did tuck away a no-hitter as Belleville silenced Ida 10-0.

Jill Pence had a perfect 2-for-2 while Wisniewski aided her cause with a run-scoring double. She struck out none and walked one.

Caren Cole hurled the Tigers past Dundee 15-3 in the final Belleville appearance at the tourney. Pence who batted three for three with two RBIs and Michelle Manche, who had two runs batted in for her two hits, were named to the All-Tournament team.

Want to run in marathon?

Registration is now underway for the fourth annual Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan Fitness Runs of 3, 6 and 12 miles, Sunday, May 23. The runs begin and end at BCBSM headquarters in downtown Detroit.

The races are open to serious competitors as well as families running or walking just for fun. Top male and female finishers in each age division will receive medals and plaques.

"Thousands of runners are expected for this event," said BCBSM Community Relations Director Joseph Lughermo. "It's one of the largest runs in the state: Last year nearly 3,000 runners participated."

The Detroit Fitness Run is one of 14 walk and run events sponsored statewide this year by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan. Highlight is the grueling Triathlon, September 19 on Belle Isle, which combines running, biking and canoeing.

"These events give families the opportunity to keep fit while having fun," Lughermo said. "We believe physical fitness improves the health of our citizens, and we want to help make it possible."

Wayne-Westland school board members are targets of recall

By SUE McDONALD
ANP News Editor

The Wayne-Westland Board of Education trustees, who are the subject of a recall effort by Tax-payers United Together (TUT), are maintaining a wait-and-see attitude as the county clerk and the clerks in the three municipalities that the petitions were circulated begin the tedious process of verifying signatures on the more than 1,000 recall petitions.

While Officers of TUT are confident they have more than exceeded the 4,910 signatures needed to force a recall election, a majority of the foursome doubts there are enough signatures to bring about the first recall election ever in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools.

Facing possible recalls are school board president Donald Rusnock, vice-president Kenneth Marshall, secretary Mildred Batterson and treasurer Mary Arbour. A fifth trustee, Thomas Barrett, has been spared because his term of office expires this June.

Rusnock this week declined comment on the filing of the petitions last Thursday, although he did reiterate his contention that the board members' vote in favor of a two-year contract extension, with 7 and 9 percent pay increases really is not germane to the issue of the recall. Early on in the petition drive the trustee contended that TUT was using the recall as a way to get at School Supt. Dr. Timothy Dyer.

Mrs. Batterson, who believes a recall will have a devastating effect on the school district, has placed the recall on hold and is confident that if it does come to an election, the trustees will have the support of the school district.

"We've always made decisions in the best interest of the students and the school district," she added. "I feel confident we won't be recalled."

Mrs. Arbour, who declined comment rather than jeopardize a possible lawsuit, did acknowledge that "the only ones that will be hurt by a recall will be the students, if this flies."

Marshall also believes that the community will be responsive to the four board members, if it comes down to a recall election and maintains that the disgruntled residents should have corrected what they see as problems in the school district in the voting booth, not through a recall.

"It's a case of a group of residents who are not happy with things that are being done in the school district and are trying to correct it in their minds," he said. "They should have handled it through the election process. If you don't like what a member does it's up to the voters to get that member out in the election process."

All four board members stand by their vote to approve the contract extension, with Rusnock pointing out that many school districts have come in with wage settlements higher than those negotiated in Wayne-Westland.

"I still stand by my decision on the contract," Mrs. Arbour added. "There's no doubt that if we settled now, or through the summer, or went to arbitration, we wouldn't have gotten as good of a settlement as we did."

TUT and the board trustees will know in 30 days if there are enough signatures to force a recall election in the school district. However, the four trustees at present have grouped behind the possibility that TUT did not gather enough signatures.

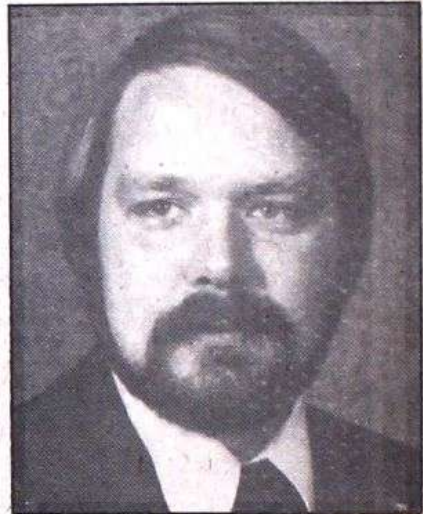

"I think if you do the best you can, study the materials and vote the way you think it should be, you should not be recalled."
Kenneth Marshall

"I believe the only ones that will be hurt by a recall will be the kids...if this flies."
Mary Arbour

"I'm very confident that if it comes to a recall, we will have the support of the community."
Mildred Batterson

"It's part of the Democratic process. If we're recalled, then that's what the people want. I won't be party to a lawsuit."
Donald Rusnock

Would you pay $10 to visit Hines or a Wayne County Park?

Visitors to Wayne County parks — particularly Hines Park — may be required to buy a $10 park-use sticker for their vehicle shortly if a special Public Safety sub-committee recommendation is approved by the county Board of Commissioners.

The proposal was approved by the Public Safety Committee Friday morning.

A resolution submitted by Commissioner Kay Beard, if implemented, will provide $2.50 to the county road commission for administering sticker sales and $7.50 to the county as ear-marked funds for law enforcement in the county parks.

According to Beard, this will help defray the cost of park patrols now costing the local communities an estimated $125,000 per month in over-time for their help in providing police patrols at Hines and Elizabeth Park in Trenton.

Sheriff William Lucas' plan to beef up deputy road patrols would cost the county's general fund $742,000 during the balance of the season, a sum that county commissioners are unable to pay considering the county's $16.7 million deficit, fast becoming a major budgetary problem.

Motorists driving through the 18-mile-long Hines Parkway will not be required to purchase stickers. Stickers will be similar to those sold by the State and National Park systems.

The sub-committee, chaired by Commissioner Edward K. Michalski of Detroit includes commissioners Delores Bennett, Detroit; Beard, Inkster/Dearborn Heights; George F. Killeen, Detroit; James J. Rashid, Melvindale; and Loretta Youngs, Detroit. Also on the committee are officials from Dearborn Heights, Mayor Donald H. Bishop and Police Chief Donald Loose; Westland Mayor Charles W. Pickering, Jr. and Police Chief William Rechlin; Trenton Mayor Robert L. Bovitz and Police Chief Angelo Abate, and Police Chief James Petres of Northville.

Inspector Fred Dansby representing Westland at the Thursday meeting, was the only member to protest the proposal, asserting the $10 sticker was just another tax on the public. While Police Chief Carl Berry of Plymouth, Chief Loose and Chief Abate considered the plan feasible, provided a way could be found to sell the stickers at one central location easily accessible to the public.

Donald Cox, president of the Sheriff's Deputy union, said if the revenue were solely earmarked for hiring or paying overtime to the police departments of local communities to patrol the parks then it would amount to hiring outside police help and he would have no alternative but to bring suit against the county. "If the funds were directed towards financing sheriff patrols in the park, then I would support the project," Cox said.

Beard said sale of stickers could hopefully begin as soon as the county board of commissioners approves the plan and a proper ordinance is prepared and signed by the Governor.

Local communities have already chalked up sizeable expenses in attempting to control the park crowds estimated at times to be 40,000 and Mayor Bishop has threatened to close the park down in two weeks unless the county acts to provide either patrols or money.

Law wins tourney

Law Auto Sales of the Livonia Division I Tuesday Night League took first place in the Canton Township Round Robin Softball Marathon held at Griffin Park field.

K-F Electronics of Oak Park finished second and Pour Devil Lounge of Westland finished third.

Mike Macek paced the Law Auto team with a .611 batting average. Jim Mandeville batted .548 with 5 home runs and 20 RBI's.

Gary Evans contributed 18 RBI's behind 3 home runs and was selected the tournament's MVP.

Bill Barker made several outstanding defensive plays for Law Auto. Law Auto lost the first game of the tournament by one run to Tank Service of Plymouth, but then went on to post seven consecutive wins to take the title.

The tournament was A.S.A. sanctioned and was directed by Jay Lancaster.

Concert time

The Belleville High School Senior Choir will present a concert featuring famous show tunes at 7:30 p.m., Thurs., May 20 in the Belleville High School auditorium.

AAA warns: Holidays may be fatal to your health

Lower gasoline prices and prospects of improved weather should help propel Michigan to a Memorial Day holiday weekend as good or better than last year despite the state's economic problems, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Strong resort-area activity over the 78-hour holiday also would provide an indication on whether Michigan can expect a prosperous summer tourism season," stated Auto Club Travel Operations Manager James Drury.

"Factors which will affect the success of both Memorial Day holiday and summer tourism in Michigan are mixed so far this year," Drury said. "While gasoline costs are significantly below last year and travel information requests and private campground reservations are up, traffic counts and Mackinac Bridge crossings are down."

The Michigan Department of Transportation expects motorists to drive 675 million miles in Michigan over the Memorial Day weekend, a total which would equal last year's volume. In 1978, Memorial Day weekend motorists in Michigan drove a record 720 million miles for a 78-hour period.

The holiday officially begins at 6 p.m. Friday (May 28) and ends at midnight Monday (May 31).

"Gasoline prices should be a positive factor in this year's tourism picture since statewide full-serve no-lead costs are down an average 12 cents a gallon compared with last Memorial Day weekend while the state's self-serve price is down 20 cents.

"Despite the gasoline price drop, Mackinac Bridge crossings are 9 percent below the volume for the first four months of 1981," Drury said.

State transportation officials report motorists drove 4 percent fewer miles in Michigan during the first three months this year compared to 1981. There has been a slight increase in travel during the past three warm-weather weekends.

"Auto Club member requests for Michigan routings are up 2 percent compared with the first four months of 1981," Drury said.

Regional tourism officials report travel information requests are up for both Upper and Lower Peninsula destinations. The Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association reports up to a 5 percent increase in inquiries from prospective visitors within one day's drive of the region.

Private campground operators report Memorial Day reservations are up 10 to 12 percent over 1981. Heaviest activity is expected at parks near major southern Michigan cities.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources reports confirmed state park campground reservations nearly equal to those received last year.
